TRAFFIC TIED UP BY BRIDGE FIRE

Spark Fell on Trestle at East End Towers.

IRON AIR TANK EXPLODED

FIVE FIREMEN, ON ROADWAY, WERE KNOCKED DOWN.

Wires Were Soon Repaired and Trains Were Sent by Way of Merchants' Bridge Until Charred Beams Were Tested.

The fire which broke out in the tower at the east end of Eads bridge at 8:40 o'clock Wednesday morning and caused an explosion of compressed air, crippled all the pneumatic switches in the Terminal Association's East Side yards and in the tunnel.

It also broke all telephone connection between St. Louis and East St. Louis and completely stopped traffic over the bridge. From 8:40 o'clock until 10 o'clock, not an engine, car or wagon crossed the bridge.

Superintendent Dunlop of the Terminal Association stated at noon that the pneumatic switches would be working again at 6 o'clock.

Operators for the Bell Telephone Co. stated that connection between the east and west sides of the river would be resumed by 5 o'clock. Operators for the Kinloch company were unable to state how soon their lines would be repaired.

The fire started on the south side of the railway trestle, where it passes through the east tower. The upper end of the big compressed air tank in the Eads bridge power house was only a few feet away.

The upper end of the tank was blown out and the sides spread apart. The tank is 45 feet high and 6 feet in diameter.

The East St. Louis department and three companies from St. Louis were on the scene when the explosion occurred.

CAR KNOCKED FROM TRACK.

An electric car was near the east tower and the concussion knocked it off the track.

"It felt as if the whole bridge was going into the river," said a passenger. "It seemed to lean over and tremble with the shock."

The bursting of water pipes which brings the water supply to the bridge power house necessitated shutting down the engines for the day and this brought the Eads Bridge electric cars to a standstill.

Before noon they got power from the East St. Louis electric line's power house and were running slowly.

Traffic on the bridge was resumed as usual by 10:30 o'clock and a small army of switchmen stationed at the crippled pneumatic switches to work them by hand enabled the Terminal Association to handle its traffic with slight difficulty.

Fire, followed by an explosion, Wednesday morning did $3000 damage to the east end of Eads bridge and interrupted railroad traffic and telegraph and telephone communication between the two cities.

The fire originated on the trestle work directly in front of the south tower. Coals from a passing engine's firebox are supposed to have been dropped.

The north and south towers at the east end of the bridge are four stories high. From the ground up to where the trestle work passes over, he space between the towers is used as an engine room. Here is generated the electricity that propels the bridge cars and lights the bridge and tunnel. Here the air is compressed and stored for use in operating the pneumatic switches of St. Louis and East St. Louis.

The second and third stories of the two towers are used partly as storerooms and partly as shops.

The third story is on a level with the railroad tracks. The fourth is the ticket offices of the bridge.

From the engine room down below, between the towers, a conical tank, resting on the ground, reaches to the third floor of the south tower. It is used for storing compressed air and is tapped at the top by pipes, running to the St. Louis yards, south of Union Station.

PAULEY AND KOLBE GAVE ALARMS.

At 8:30 o'clock Wednesday morning Adam Paley, ticket seller at the east end of the bridge, saw flames darting up between the planks of the roadbed and the sidewalk, directly in front of the south tower.

They grew rapidly larger, as he looked, and he telephoned the St. Louis fire department.

About the same time C. C. Kolbe, engineer, while standing in front of his engine room on the ground, was startled by a blazing piece of wood that fell at his feet.

He saw the flames overhead and sent in an alarm to the East St. Louis fire department.

St. Louis sent over engines Nos. 23 and 18 and truck No. 6, in command of Chiefs Rucker and Haynes.

When they arrived the whole woodwork between the two towers under the bridge roadbed was burning. The East St. Louis men went to work at the top, tearing up the planks and sending a stream down.

Ladders were raised from the ground to the burning trestlework, and St. Louis firemen carried the hose up these.

The East St. Louis department had been over the fire but five minutes when there was an explosion under them.

FIREMEN KNOCKED DOWN.

Five men of No. 1, tearing away planks, were knocked down, windows in the towers and in a saloon just north of the bridge were shattered. No one was injured.

The explosion wrecked the third floor of the south tower and the flames gained rapidly.

The explosion also tore away the telephone and telegraph wires running under the bridge floor, and for three hours there was no direct communication with St. Louis.

Trains were halted when the fire was discovered and after the explosion there was some delay at Relay depot, but General Manager McChesney and Superintendent Dunlop came to the rescue and assisted in dispatching the business over the Merchants' bridge.

A dozen streams were on the fire five minutes after the explosion and at no other time did it threaten dangerous proportions. So quickly were the flames extinguished that the south trestle where they originated was not so burned that its strength was impaired.

TWO WAYS ON ONE TRACK.

The first train was sent over at 9:50 while the firemen were yet at work. While a thorough test was being made of the south trestle the north was used for east and west bound trains.

"The report that a boiler exploded under the bridge is untrue," Superintendent Williams of the power plant stated to the Post-Dispatch. "What did burst was the top of the compressed air tank. The fire was the cause of that. The tank became subjected to heat enough to cause the air inside to expand. I think $3000 will fully cover all damages."

The bridge cars, which get their power from this plant, were started at 10 o'clock with power supplied by the East St. Louis Car Co.

SUICIDE TRIED WITH A SLEDGE

HENRY L. DAUERNHEIM WAS UNABLE TO SLEEP.

FAMILY WAS MOST WATCHFUL.

Wife of Wall Paper Man Suspected He Meant to Destroy Himself and Called an Officer.

Henry L. Dauernheim, a prominent wall paper dealer, attempted to end his life in the basement at his home, 2729 Thomas street, at noon Wednesday.

Mr. Dauernheim is 51 years old, and lives with his family at the address given. For several months he has been troubled with insomnia and his condition gave his family alarm.

At noon Wednesday, while he was seated at the dinner table, he suddenly arose and without uttering a word he hastily left the dining room. His wife asked him where he was going. He made no answer. He merely quickened his steps.

One of the members of the family started after him, and Mr. Dauernheim was seen to enter the basement. In the basement was a large 10-pound sledge hammer.

SLEDGE DROPPED ON HIS HEAD.

He went directly to where it was resting and seizing it he raised it high in the air and allowed it to drop on his head.

Mrs. Dauernheim saw what was happening and she called to Policeman Donnelly, who was passing. They hastened to the basement. Mr. Dauernheim was still conscious and he struggled to retain possession of the hammer. It was wrested away from him, however.

An ambulance was summoned and Dauernheim was taken to the City Hospital. It was learned there that his skull was fractured and that his condition was critical.

Mr. Dauernheim is brother of Charles Dauernheim, who is in the wall paper business on Broadway near Olive street. Henry L. Dauernheim's place of business is at 3118 Easton avenue. His family consists of himself, his wife and one son, aged 19 years.

FOUGHT IN HIS OWN COURT

Judge Nuhn of Macon County Resented Comments of the Insane Asylum Superintendent.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

MACON, Mo., March 5.—Judge Henry Nuhn of the County Court and Supt. W. A. Patrick of the Macon County Asylum for the Insane, at the conclusion of an altercation over an account the superintendent had presented for ice, had a personal encounter in the courtroom.

Although there were over a dozen spectators, but one attempt was made to separate the combatants, and the man who made it was unceremoniously jerked out of the way by one of the bystanders. At last the superintendent closed with the judge and threw him to the floor, where he held him fast. He asked the judge to yield, but the latter only shouted back his defiance. Although down, the judge held firmly to a lock of his antagonist's hair, and never did let go till the mill closed through the weariness of the combatants.

There has been considerable difference between the county judges over accounts and other matters before the court for some time. Judge Nuhn has very pronounced views, and when his two associates would overrule him he would record a vigorous protest. Until the recent affair Judge Nuhn contemplated retiring from the bench when his term was out, he having served four years as judge from the northern district, but this afternoon he announced himself as a candidate for the presiding judgeship in opposition to Judge J. W. Williams, the present incumbent.

MAKING FOR NORTH POLE.

Danes Bring News of Baldwin-Seigler Expedition.

COPENHAGEN, March 5.—Letters dated from Franz Josefland, Aug. 17, have been received here from the Danes who accompanied the Baldwin-Seigler Arctic expedition. The vessel arrived at Franz Josefland after trying experiences, with all on board well. The American intended to winter at Franz Josefland and then proceed northward until stopped by the ice, when the party on board was started towards the north pole. Mr. Baldwin hoped that the America would reach 83 degrees north.

BANK ROBBED OF $10,000.

Safe at Washington, Ind., Blown Up by Dynamite.

WASHINGTON, Ind., March 5.—The First National Bank of Montgomery, eight miles east of this city, was robbed last night, the safe blown open by dynamite and $10,000 in cash and bonds stolen.

Citizens heard five distinct explosions, but feared to attack the robbers, who had each approach under guard.

The robbers escaped on a hand car. The loss is covered by insurance.

FAIR SITE CONDEMNATION.

It Was Begun by Proceedings Against Park View Company.

The Louisiana Purchase Exposition Co., through its attorneys, Seddon & Blair, filed condemnation proceedings in the Circuit Court Wednesday morning against the Park View Realty Co., owners of the property in the United States survey, as 378, bounded on the east by DeBaliviere avenue on the south by the north line of Forest Park and on the west by Skinker road.

PEET BEDS FOR MICHIGAN.

Count Kleintuck Will Start Industry With 300 Acres.

ALLEGEN, Mich., March 5.—Charles T. Marsh of Allegen county, has sold to Count Carl Kleinstuck 260 acres of land in Martin township, which the count intends putting into peet beds. This will be an entirely new industry for this country.

ASYLUM WING CONTRACT LET.

Addition to Nevada Institution Will Be Built by C. S. Davis.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEVADA, Mo., March 5.—The contract for the new wing to the insane asylum here, has been let to C. S. Davis of Neosho, Mo., whose bid was $20,000. The wing will be made of brick, have four stories and provide accommodations for 150 patients.

PARALYZED AS HE PREACHED.

Rev. Mr. Bauserman Was Stricken During a Revival Service.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WHITE CLOUD, Kan., March 5.—While Rev. Mr. Bauserman, of Maitland, Mo., was preaching a revival sermon in the Christian Church here he was stricken with paralysis. His condition is critical.

TWO STREETS ARE FREE FROM DIRT

Broadway as Immaculate as Olive Street.

MORE "WHITE WINGS" AT WORK

LIVELY, DUSTY TIMES BETWEEN ELM ST. AND FRANKLIN AV.

Street Department Has Promised an Extra Strong-Armed Detail Will Be Assigned Soon to Lucas Avenue.

Tonight St. Louis will have two clean streets, that is, the parts of two streets clean.

The immaculateness of the stones in Olive street will find its equal in the resplendence of the granite blocks in Broadway.

The "white wings" have not deserted Olive, but more have been loosed by the street commissioner and there were "doings" a plenty all day between Elm street and Franklin avenue.

The dust literally flew in the trail of this energetic white-clothed band. What did the pedestrian care if he suddenly found himself in a miniature simoon and chunks of dust whisked into his face and down his back?

Why did the gentle, dainty lady shopper smile so complacently when the wind assisted the whisking broom in covering her fine wraps with siftings from the sweepings of the street?

Long suffering may have caused stoicism, but the cheerfulness of the walkers could only be born of the advent of better things. The long, oft-repeated, tedious, even pathetic promise of a clean street was at last being kept.

So the St. Louisan smiled and suffered, for he knew the morrow would bring a relief from the torture of years.

And right energetically did these men of the street commissioner's do their work. Earth and refuse that had reposed in gutters and hollows in the street for six months was rudely pried out by the new sharp hoes, and collections of dirt on the curbstones were carefully scraped off. In every nook and corner the hoes were poked and the broom corps coming right after pushed it into little piles which were, after a short time, shoveled into wagons.

The observant noted with satisfaction that there has been a departure in the method of removing piles of dirt from the streets. The order of today is not to let the piles remain long enough for horses, vehicles and the winds to distribute nine-tenths of the dirt over the street again, but wagons followed close after the sweepers and the piles disappeared.

By night the street will be as clean as if Prince Henry in company with the president of the United States was to drive over it the next hour. Even the strip between Chestnut and Market streets has been made as presentable as possible. Wood blocks were used in paving this block and they have made an admirable recepticle fore mud and slush. Top boots would not have been out of place many a day in crossing Broadway here.

Today all the ruts were carefully scraped out and the old, worn blocks given a good sweeping.

North of Washington avenue the work has gone on with the same vigor, and as Broadway passes Lucas avenue the contrast is striking enough to force comment. Lucas avenue is still the sea of mud as of yore, but even here we have promises of something better, and promises from the street department seem now to have new meaning.

Commissioner Varreiman has said that he would clean Lucas avenue very soon. An extra force of extra stout "white wings" will be needed here.

"BY THIS SIGN ARE WE KNOWN"

How Columbia School Scholars Protect Their Vaccinated Arms.

Pen-and-Ink Sketch Made by School Girls to Protect Vaccinated Arm.

This is the sign of the "It's Taken."

Have you seen it? Generally worn on the left arm near the shoulder, and means "This arm has troubles of its own. Hands off."

The scholars of Columbia School, who were recently vaccinated, are now wearing this badge as a protector to save arms; so when you see a group of girls with this mysterious sign don't think it a new class badge, but beware the arm that wears the signal.

STOCK YARDS BANK'S SURPRISE

It Is Said Harry Meyers, the Safe-Blower, Will Be the State's Chief Witness.

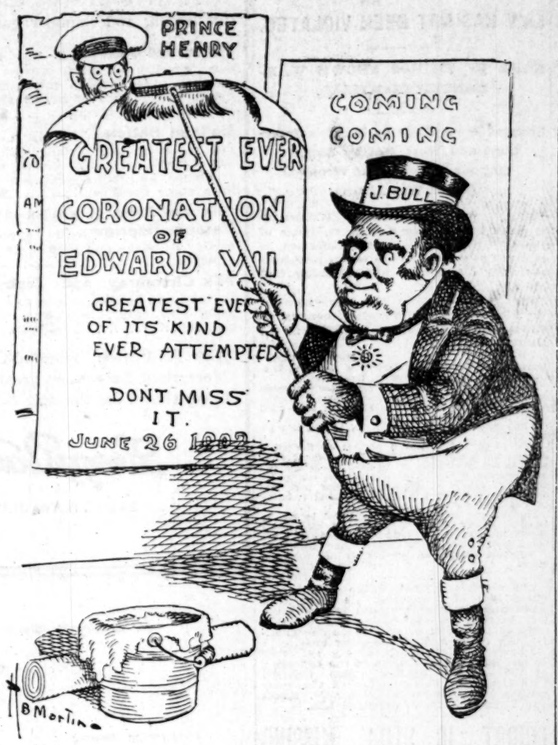

The trial of Charles Meyers, Sylvester Savignac and "Big Jack" Stevens, alleged robbers of the East St. Louis stock yard bank, was begun Wednesday in the Circuit Court at Belleville. The day was consumed in getting a jury.

A surprise is to be sprung. Harry Meyers, a notorious safe blower, sent down to Chester a year ago for blowing a safe at Millstadt, was brought to Belleville Tuesday night by Sheriff Kickham to testify in the case. It is said he is the man who put the officers on the track of the men who were afterward arrested. He is said to claim that he knew of the preliminary arrangements for the job.

He thinks he was thrown down by his friends when he was arrested for the Millstadt job and wants to get even, it is stated.

It is not revealed exactly what his testimony is to be, but State's Attorney Farmer has said all along he could convict the men without the evidence of the watchmen.

THE RIVAL BILL-POSTER.

BAYONETS USED IN STREET CAR STRIKE

TROOPS GUARD TROLLEY LINES AT NORFOLK.

BARRICADES ON THE TRACKS

Several Persons Arrested for Tearing Up the Rails and Mobs Dispersed by Militia.

NORFOLK, Va., March 5.—Street cars guarded by troops are running at long intervals today, but no passengers are being carried. All is quiet, and Mayor Beamon stated that there is no necessity yet for declaring martial law. Four additional companies of the Seventy-first Infantry have been ordered out, and this will place the entire command in the field, two battalions being already in service. Strikers were busy last night barricading the tracks, but this morning the obstructions were removed by the troops. At midnight the soldiers were called upon to disperse a mob at Church and Charlotte streets. Bayonets were used, but it is not known that there were many casualties.

W. B. Rudolph, Tom Murry and Samuel Ayers, white, and Tom Jenkins, colored, were arrested before daylight this morning by a detachment of the Huntington Rifles at Newport News for tearing up street car tracks at the corner of Church and Holt streets. An officer of the company stated that an attempt at dynamiting the tracks had been made, but the police denied this. The Suffolk mill company arrived this forenoon, and on the same train were 15 strike breakers from Knoxville. These men were taken to the barracks by the troops. The arrival of the imported men intensifies the feeling, and the situation grows graver as the day advances.

AIRSHIP CONTEST IS A PUZZLER

Willard A. Smith, Chief of Transportation Exhibits at the Fair, Writes to Aeronauts.

Willard A. Smith, chief of the transportation exhibits of the World's Fair, arrived in St. Louis Tuesday for consultation with the exposition officials.

Chief Smith is charged with the task of compiling the rules and regulations governing the $100,000 airship contest. He has been consulting Prof. Langley of the Smithsonian Institute and Octave Chanute of Chicago on this subject, and will enter into correspondence with the leading aero clubs of Europe before finally determining upon the rules.

Mr. Smith says a difficulty in the way of the formation of rules is that there are two classes of scientists, one maintaining that no success can come to an airship unless it is propelled by gas and the other that its success depends solely upon the rapidity with which it can be propelled.

The $100,000 prize, Mr. Smith says, is a strong inducement to scientists to solve the problem of aerial navigation. He expresses the opinion that 99 out of 100 who try it will fail.

DEMOCRATS FAVOR OLD LINES.

Mississippi Assembly Adopts Resolution for Alignment With East.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JACKSON, Miss., March 5.—The McAllister resolution providing that the South align itself with the East on business and political measures was passed by the lower house yesterday amid great excitement.

The bill is a blow at free silver, and indicates that Mississippi Democrats have cut loose from Bryan.

THE WEATHER INDICATIONS.

FAIR—MODERATE TEMPERATURE

The weather indications for St. Louis and vicinity are fair Wednesday night and Thursday; moderate temperature.

Arkansas—Wednesday night and Thursday, fair; warmer Thursday.

Oklahoma and Indian Territory—Wednesday night and Thursday, fair, warmer.

GOVERNMENT WILL HAVE EXHIBITS HERE

WORLD'S FAIR NATIONAL BOARD HAS NOT SOUGHT DELAY.

READY FOR SHOW IN 1903.

Chairman Brigham Contradicts a Recent Rumor Originating in Washington.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Chairman Brigham of the government board, in charge of the government exhibits at the St. Louis World's Fair, said to the Post-Dispatch correspondent today that the rumor that the government board had asked Mr. Tawney, chairman of the Exposition committee, to introduce a bill to postpone the World's Fair because the government exhibits could not be prepared in time was absolutely unfounded. He said that so far as the government exhibits were concerned they would be ready by 1903.

"While it is true," he said, "that the exhibits could be made much better and more comprehensive if the Fair would be postponed and the cost of the building would be increased at least $50,000 by rushing it to completion, yet we will be ready with the government exhibits by May 1, 1903."

He said that if postponement is made the request will have to come from the management of the Fair. He said, however, that the government board was anxious to know as soon as possible how much money they are to have with which to make the government exhibits.

The exhibits will have to be prepared according to the appropriation provided for them, and Mr. Brigham and the board are anxious to begin the work of preparation.

Mr. Brigham suggests that some one representing the Fair company be sent here to urge immediate action on this appropriation, and that the appropriation be made as large as possible in the interest of more extensive exhibits.

BATSON REACHES NEW ORLEANS

Suspected Murderer of the Earll Family Taken Safely Through Louisiana.

NEW ORLEANS, March 5.—E. A. Batson of Spickard, Mo., who is charged with the murder of six members of the Earll family, near Welsh, La., and who was recently arrested at Princeton, Mo., crossed the length of Louisiana in safety last night, and in charge of Sheriff Perkins, of Calcasiu parish, was safely landed in the parish prison here.

He will stay in New Orleans until his trial is called. Governor Heard is exerting himself to give the prisoner adequate protection. Batson says that he is innocent.

FUNSTON TO SEE PRESIDENT.

Philippine Hero May Be Given Assignment in Dakota.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—President Roosevelt has expressed a desire to meet Gen. Funston and discuss the military situation in the Philippines with him. Gen. Funston will proceed to the White House immediately upon his arrival here. It is now regarded as probable that he will be given an assignment in the Dakotas.

FORGED TICKETS IN EVIDENCE.

Charles J. Leonard, Ticket Broker, Is On Trial.

Charles J. Leonard, charged with forgery in the fourth degree, was placed on trial in Judge Ryan's court Tuesday.

Leonard was a ticket broker on Market street, opposite Union Station. Aug. 9 last Detectives Keely, Cordell, Howard and Badger arrested Leonard and took charge of a large number of railroad tickets. It was alleged that these tickets were forged.

Assistant Circuit Attorney Bishop is conducting the prosecution. Thomas B. Harvey appears for the defense.

MEPHAM IS NOT IN THIS STATE

Sheriff Dickmann Says He Knows His Whereabouts.

WANTED WITNESS IS SICK.

SHERIFF CONSULTED WITH FOLK YESTERDAY.

Official May Be Called Upon to Go After Mepham Today—Witness Could Not Be Brought Back on Subpena Alone.

WEDNESDAY'S GRANDJURY WITNESSES.

J. J. EVANS, druggist, Union avenue and Suburban tracks.
IRA WELCH, real estate, 319 North Ninth street.

Sheriff Dickmann said Wednesday morning that he knows where Edgar A. Mepham is, has known for several days, and can produce him if authorized to do so within the next 36 hours.

After that time, the sheriff says, he will not be responsible for Mepham's appearance.

The sheriff says that Mepham is out of Missouri and is sick.

"I went before the grandjury yesterday afternoon," said the sheriff, "and stated the case. I gave the jury to understand that unless I was furnished with the necessary authority and the necessary money to go after Mepham within 36 hours I could not answer for him further.

"Circuit Attorney Folk and the grandjury assured me that they would let me know today what to do."

Under the laws Mepham could not be brought back to Missouri on a mere summons as a witness. It would be necessary for the grandjury to indict him or for the prosecuting attorney's office to issue a warrant against him.

Armed with an indictment or a warrant, the sheriff or his deputy could proceed to Jefferson City and procure from Gov. Dockery a request upon the governor of the state, in which Mepham is staying, that he be turned over to the St. Louis sheriff.

Unless the governor of the other state should, for any reason, refuse to honor the requisition, Mepham could be brought back in this way.

Whether the grandjury will find an indictment or the prosecuting attorney will issue a warrant is a matter of conjecture.

The grand jury will meet at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon to proceed with its investigations. It is not anticipated that any partial report will be made Wednesday.

SANTOS-DUMONT'S NEW FIELDS

Aeronaut Says He Will Experiment Hereafter in the United States and England.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch.

LONDON, March 5.—Santos-Dumont, the famous aeronaut, arrived in London today. In an interview with the Post-Dispatch correspondent he said: "I have only come to London now for a very short visit to make arrangements for charging the balloon which is to be used in my experiments here.

"I have been this afternoon examining the ground about the Crystal Palace, but I am afraid it is too small. I require much more accommodation than that, and for the moment there is some difficulty in finding it. It is quite settled that I shall make some flights in London in May and June next in connection with the coronation celebration. There was a suggestion that afterward I should go to New York, but for a time that has been abandoned. I shall cover various routes over London, perhaps travelling in a circle around St. Paul's Cathedral."

Asked as to the solution of what problem his experiments would now be directed, he replied:

"That of the speed of my No. 7 airship, which I shall probably take to America. It traveled at the rate of 40 miles an hour, but that speed must be increased. The pitching, which caused the Monte Carlo mishap, will, I think, be prevented by the provision of a number of inside compartments."

He declares he will make no further experiments in France, but make the United States and England the field of his operations.

WEATHER FAIR AND FINE

Dr. Hyatt Does His Best for St. Louis in Honor of an Official Visitor.

Fair and fine weather is the official program for Wednesday night and Thursday, according to Dr. Hyatt of the weather bureau.

The continuation of Wednesday morning's clear and pleasant temperature was explained by Dr. Hyatt as a compliment to his friend, Dr. George M. Chappel of the Des Moines, Ia., weather bureau, who is visiting him.

It was reported that Dr. Chappel was giving the St. Louis office a meteorological "checking up," but the Iowa weather man denied this rumor, and said that he was merely on a pleasure and business trip.

"Fair tonight and Thursday; moderate temperature" was what the public read on the official forecasts.

Wednesday started out exactly at the freezing point at 7 o'clock, a drop of 3 degrees from Tuesday.

AMERICA WILL NOT HELP THE BOERS

Transvaal Delegates So Informed by the President.

CALLED AT THE WHITE HOUSE.

PRESENTED THEIR CAUSE IN A SHORT INTERVIEW.

They Were Told That the United States Cannot and Will Not Interfere in the South African War.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Messrs. Woolmarans and Wessels, the Boer representatives, who recently came here from South Africa to induce the United States to take some step in their behalf, called at the White House today.

They were received by President Roosevelt in the library and remained with him about 15 minutes. They called as private citizens and not in their official capacity as Boer representatives. Mr. Roosevelt listened attentively to what they had to say and then informed them this government cannot and will not interfere in the struggle.

The Boer delegates first called on Secretary Hay. They were not very specific as to what they wanted and apparently would be satisfied with a simple tender of good offices on the part of the United States.

The secretary of state heard them and promised to consider their petitions and to do whatever he could to ameliorate the conditions in South Africa. But he pointed out that the President was the prime authority in such matters and he recommended that the Boers see Mr. Roosevelt and ascertain his views. This they did, with the result above stated.

BELT CATCHES OBADIAH MOREY

Whirled Around a Huge Fly Wheel, Dashed Against Ceiling and Then Thrown on the Floor Dying.

Obadiah Morey of 4225 John avenue, a widower, 66 years old, was killed Tuesday. He was caught in a belt and whirled on an 18-foot flywheel at the plant of the Green Car Wheel Manufacturing Co., Ninth and Dock streets, where he was a fireman.

He was carried to the ceiling, whence he fell to the floor. He was picked up by workmen who heard him fall, but was so badly stunned he could give no account of the manner of his injury. Morey died at the City Hospital an hour after being received there.

TREES FOR ST. LOUIS SCHOOLS

Board of Education Has Appropriated $1750 and Planting Will Begin at Once.

Trees will be planted on the lawns of the St. Louis public schools wherever such ornamentation is possible.

The Board of Education has appropriated $1750 for this purpose and the work will be begun at once. Five hundred shade trees will be planted. Then if more money is forthcoming, additional trees may be planted.

Building Commissioner Ittner says that the trees to be planted will include maples, poplars, elms and other attractive varieties.

"It is our intention to beautify every school lawn in the best possible manner," said Mr. Ittner. "In accordance with the New St. Louis idea."

MOTHER JOSEPH'S LIFE ENDS

Was Miss Eliza E. Ivory of St. Louis and Founded Many Convents Throughout the Country.

St. Louis relatives have received news of the death of Rev. Mother Frances Joseph in the convent at Glenmore-on-the-Hudson, New York at the age of 79. Mother Joseph was Miss Eliza Eleanora Ivory of St. Louis. She entered upon her novitiate at Carondelet 60 years ago, departing from there about 20 years ago.

She was a sister of the late John C. Ivory and of Mrs. Edmund F. Walsh. Sister Baptists, a niece, is a nun at the Visitation Convent. Miss Eugenie Frances Ivory of St. Louis is another niece.

Mother Joseph was a Daughter of the American Revolution and a Colonial Dame. She was a lineal descendant of Gov. William Shirley of Massachusetts and of Col. Richard Shirley, who was with Washington at Yorktown.

She founded many convents throughout the United States.

LABORER WAS ROBBED OF $40

John Lyons of Beardstown, Ill., Assaulted by Two Men While on His Way to a Hotel.

John Lyons, a laborer, from near Beardstown, Ill., who has been employed on the government works, came to St. Louis Tuesday to buy clothing. He had $40, and after making a few purchases concluded to pass the night in St. Louis. At 12:30 o'clock Wednesday morning, he told the police, he entered a saloon at Sixth and Wash streets. When he stepped out, he says, two men attacked him and robbed him of his money. He told the bartender his misfortune and that person gave him 40 cents and told him to go to a hotel and pass the remainder of the night. Steven Lyons, a bystander, told the stranger he would conduct him to the hotel. While they were on the way two more men assaulted them. John Lyons was badly beaten and his 40 cents was taken from him. Fred Williams and John Payne were arrested by Policemen Dineen and Sheldon. Warrants charging highway robbery were issued against them Wednesday morning.

BRYAN WILL OPPOSE HILL.

The Commoner Announces This Attitude of Its Editor.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

LINCOLN, Neb., March 5.—Advance editorial from Bryan's Commoner strongly criticises political career of David B. Hill. Bryan violently opposes the idea of the Democratic party honoring the Hill reorganizers who fought in 1896. He plainly infers he will line up against Hill if the latter is nominated in 1904.

BUSINESS MEN URGE NEW TRAINS

BENEFITS EXPLAINED AT MEETING IN MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE.

BAUMHOFF CHIEF SPEAKER.

Resolutions Were Adopted Calling for Running of Three New Mail Trains.

RESOLUTIONS DEMANDING MORE FAST MAIL TRAINS.

"We, members representing the St. Louis Manufacturers' Association and other business men assembled, want, and demand, three additional fast mail trains out of this city, on the Frisco, the Wabash and the Louisville and Nashville railroads, and we pledge our support individually and collectively, and that wherever possible, of our clients, in obtaining the same."

New mail trains from St. Louis to points in Missouri, Illinois, Indiana and Kentucky are urged in resolutions passed at the meeting held at the Merchants' Exchange Tuesday night by manufacturers and business men.

Postmaster Baumhoff, who was the principal speaker, outlined the benefit which an increased service of fast mail trains would confer on the business interests of St. Louis and explained the system by which the government deals with the railroads in the matter of special mail service.

The railroads are paid, he explained, by a system of weighing, and the car space occupied and the mileage are taken into account in determining the compensation which they receive. The weighings are made only once in four years, and to change the rate in a less time, emergency legislation is necessary.

Mr. Baumhoff urged that Congress and the postoffice department be asked to provide for such an emergency weighing.

Following Mr. Baumhoff, other speakers discussed the need for new trains, pointing out that an increase in afternoon mail facilities is as greatly needed as a similar increase in the morning.

It was shown that by trains leaving the city in the afternoon the suburban or daylight territory of the city would be extended 100 miles in every direction. It was also shown that such trains would be the most profitable in increasing the passenger facilities of the city.

It was explained that merchants beyond the reach of present suburban train service would come to the city much oftener if they could go home on an afternoon train, thus losing but one day. They could then come to the city, transact business and go home with but one night away from home.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 5.—The National Bread Co., with a capital stock of $600,000, and the Spalding Mercantile Co., with a capital stock of $200,000, both of St. Louis, were issued certificates of incorporation this morning by Secretary of State Cook.

The stockholders in the bread company are: James F. Leighton, W. H. Scott and O. P. Condon, all of St. Louis.

The stockholders in the mercantile company are: Homer B. Spaulding, W. H. Walker, V. E. Oehler, Lon Acuff and R. B. Hutchinson.

Henry Hitchcock Is Improving.—

Henry Hitchcock, brother of Secretary Hitchcock of the interior department, who is lying sick at his home, 54 Vandeventer place, was reported much improved Tuesday.

THE STARVATION PLAN.

Of Treating Dyspepsia and Stomach Troubles is Useless and Unscientific.

The almost certain failure of the starvation cure for dyspepsia has been proven time and again, but even now a course of dieting is generally the first thing recommended for a case of indigestion or any stomach trouble.

Many people with weak digestion, as well as some physicians, consider the first step to take in attempting to cure indigestion is to restrict the diet, either by selecting certain foods and rejecting others, or to cut down the amount of food eaten to barely enough to keep soul and body together; in other words, the starvation plan is by many supposed to be the first essential.

All this is radically wrong. It is foolish and unscientific to recommend dieting to a man already suffering from starvation, because indigestion itself starves every organ, nerve and fiber in the body.

What people with poor digestion most need is abundant nutrition, plenty of good, wholesome, properly cooked food, and something to assist the weak stomach to digest it.

This is exactly the purpose for which Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are adapted and the true reason why they cure the worst cases of stomach trouble.

Eat a sufficient amount of wholesome food and after each meal take one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets to promptly digest it.

In this way the system is nourished and the overworked stomach rested, because the tablets will digest the food whether the stomach works or not, one grain of the active digestive principle in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets being sufficient to digest 3000 grains of meat, eggs or other albuminous food.

Dr. Harlandson and Dr. Redwell recommend these tablets in all cases of defective digestion because the pepsin and diatase in them are absolutely free from animal matter and other impurities, and, being pleasant to the taste, are as safe and harmless for the child as for the adult.

All drug stores sell this excellent preparation, and the daily use of them after meals will be of great benefit, not only as an immediate relief, but to permanently build up and invigorate the digestive organs.

KINNEY GAVE BOND AT CRONIN'S

Alderman Was Taken by Two Detectives.

POLITICAL FEUD CULMINATES

SHEA WAS WITH THE "CUDDY" MACK FACTION.

Assailant Is a Member of the House of Delegates, and Already Had a Shooting to His Credit, Though Acquitted.

"Snake" Kinney was arrested at Broadway and Market street at 12:30 for the shooting of Daniel L. Shea in a restaurant at Union Market Wednesday morning. He gave bond in James Cronin's saloon. The sureties are Charles Lemp, the younger brewer, and Joseph Hannauer. The bond is for $500.

Thomas, alias "Snake," Kinney, member of the House of Delegates from the Fourth ward, added another notch to his gun early Wednesday morning, when, according to the police, he entered Maloney's restaurant and without provocation shot Daniel Shea, a steamfitter, who resided with his family, consisting of his wife and five children, at 1228 North Eighth street.

Shea was removed to the City Hospital. The bullet entered the right cheek and came out at the back of the neck.

Kinney, who was accompanied by his brother Mike and by Maurice Shea, escaped.

"I have investigated the case carefully," said Police Sergeant Houlihan of the Fourth district to the Post-Dispatch, "and I find that the shooting was unjustified.

SHEA WAS AT TABLE.

"Shea was eating at the restaurant when Kinney and his friends walked in.

"Without warning Kinney drew his revolver and fired two shots. One took effect.

"Kinney did not return to his home at 1012 Collins street, Tuesday night, and a search of the neighborhood has failed to give us a trace of his whereabouts."

The police believe the shooting was the result of a bitter political feud which has existed between the followers of Snake Kinney on the one side and John McGillicuddy (Cuddy Mack) and John ("Baldy") Ryan, all Democratic ward politicians of more or less prominence.

DESERTION CHARGED.

At the City Hospital Shea declared to the Post-Dispatch that he was shot by Snake Kinney because he had deserted the Kinney faction.

"I was in the restaurant about 2 o'clock," he said, "when Kinney, his brother Mike, Maurice Shea and Thomas Owens came in and sat down at the table where I was.

"Snake said 'Hello,' and I responded to the greeting.

"Then he began to question me as to why I had deserted his crowd, and I told him, as I had before, that I did so for my own good.

"I had about finished eating and was about to get up when Snake jumped up, too, and, leveling the revolver at me, fired twice.

"As I fell they ran from the restaurant.

SHEA WANTED A JOB.

"The trouble between me and Snake started when he promised to help me get a job just shortly before the last election and went back on his promise.

"In fact he had already pledged to give a position, but instead he indorsed a man named Rogers for the place.

"I have been trying to get something to do at the City Hall, but 'Snake' has been knocking me all the time.

"I was in the office of the Board of Public Improvements last Saturday and saw Mr. Edwards about getting a position there. I explained to him that Kinney was not my friend and would try to queer my chances. Mr. Edwards told me not to pay any attention to that.

KINNEY'S GREETING CHILLY.

"As I came out into the corridor I saw Kinney and we spoke. It was a kind of faint-hearted greeting, however, and we passed on. That was the last I saw of him until this morning."

Tragedy and murderous assaults have followed upon this breaking of the political bond and the police say the end is not yet.

"Snake" Kinney, "Cuddy Mack" and "Baldy" Ryan have dominated the riff-raff of Fourth ward politics for years.

FORCE A KINNEY WEAPON.

Force, rather than strategy, is their political method.

Up to the November election these men were on comparatively friendly terms. There had been animosities among them before that time and the ambition of "Snake" Kinney to become a municipal statesman prompted a little jealousy.

Riotous scenes marked the nomination of Kinney. The jealousy which had smoldered for months broke out into determined hate and shotguns succeeded the influence of oratory in the convention hall.

John ("Kid") Sheridan was "Snake's" opponent.

Ryan and McGillicuddy lined up for Sheridan, but Kinney swept the convention and was just as triumphantly elected.

FIGHT OVER PATRONAGE.

After the election the Ryan-McGillicuddy faction wanted to divide the patronage of the ward. "Snake" wouldn't have it.

From that disagreement dates the bitterest features of the feud.

Fist fights came first, then revolvers and murder was done.

Red Houlihan, a constituent of Kinney, became involved in an argument at Ryan & McGillicuddy's saloon at Sixth street and Franklin avenue one night.

Words led to blows and Ryan drew a revolver and shot Houlihan to death. Self-defense was the ground on which he was acquitted.

Next followed the shooting of John Ryan at Twelfth street and Clark avenue. This time the Kinney faction proved the aggressor.

KINNEY SHOOTINGS RECALLED.

Ryan was shot, as he charged, by Michael Kinney, and for days he hovered between life and death at the hospital.

"Snake" Kinney is 35 years old. Until recently he conducted a saloon at Second and Carr streets. He now has a place on Ninth street, between Olive and Pine.

He has a resolute character, and his dictatorial manner, backed up by the support of adoring ward heelers, has made him feared as well as outwardly respected. He has killed his man.

The victim was "Baldy" Higgins. This deed was committed at Sixth and Morgan streets six years ago. It is said to have been the outcome of a political fight.

Higgins was a notorious character and considered somewhat of a bully.

He met Kinney at the corner mentioned and soon the two were rolling on the sidewalk. Higgins then whipped out a knife. Before he could use it he was dead. Kinney was tried and acquitted.

Up to 11 a. m. Kinney had not been arrested.

John Rogers, Kinney's protege, who secured the place as deputy city marshal, which Shea says had been promised to him, died at the City Hospital two weeks ago from pneumonia, following exposure to the cold during an unexplained absence from his home.

MAYOR DISMISSES SIDENER CHARGES

Says There Is No Proof of Wrong Doings.

LAW HAS NOT BEEN VIOLATED.

NONE OF THINGS SHOWN WARRANTED DISMISSAL.

Charges Were Made by Mayor's Secretary, and Were Met by Explanations That Showed Wrong Intent Was Absent.

Mayor Wells announced Wednesday morning that George B. Sidener, judge of the City Hall Police Court, would not be removed as a result of the recent investigation into his method of conducting that office.

Simultaneously with this announcement the Mayor sent the following communication to Judge Sidener at his office in the Ozark building.

March 5, 1902.

George B. Sidener, Esq., Justice of the First District Police Court, City of St. Louis, Mo.:

Sir—This is to inform you of the disposition made by me of the charges and specifications preferred against you, and upon which you have been tried before me.

I find that specifications Nos. 10, 14 and 15 were not proven.

And while I find that a number of the other charges and specifications were proven (which, however, in the view taken by me need not be specifically referred to) I further find that no corrupt or improper motive or purpose on your part was shown, nor was any wilful or intentional violation of the law proven.

The charges and specifications found by me to be true, in the absence of improper motives being shown, do not, in my judgment, constitute sufficient ground or cause for removal from office, and I therefore dismiss all the charges and specifications.

ROLLA WELLS,
Mayor.

The charges against Judge Sidener accused him of conducting his court in a loose and improper manner; of not properly keeping records; of altering the records of the court after they had originally been made and of remitting fines.

James G. McConkey, private secretary to the mayor, had charge of the collecting of the evidence against Judge Sidener. City Counselor Bates conducted the prosecution and Attorneys Chester H. Krum and Thomas J. Rowe defended him.

POIROT IS STILL MISSING

Search by Son Failed to Reveal Whereabouts of Belleville Man Who Came to St. Louis.

John B. Poirot of Belleville, who came to St. Louis Saturday for the purpose of disposing of two carloads of potatoes and disappeared, is still missing. A thorough search in St. Louis Tuesday by his son, Edward, failed to show where Mr. Poirot disposed of his potatoes.

It was learned that Mr. Poirot was in Lebanon Friday. A friend of the family saw him and talked with him. He said he was there on business. The supposition is that he sent the potatoes from Lebanon to St. Louis. An attempt was being made Wednesday to ascertain to whom he shipped them.

The friends of the man are entirely unable to account for his absence. Although there is no good reason to suppose that he has met with violence the testimony is unanimous that he had no reason to go away voluntarily. It is thought by some that he may have wandered away while temporarily deranged.

KILLED IN A FLY WHEEL

George Reppel Was Crushed to Death in Mill of a Grain Company at Marissa, Ill.

George Reppel, 30 years old, was crushed to death at the mill of the Marissa Grain and Elevator Co. at Marissa, Ill., Tuesday.

Reppel, employed at the mill, had occasion to go into the machine room. As a part of the machinery there is a huge wheel, set into the floor, only half of which extends above the level of the floor.

In some way Reppel was caught by the wheel, whirled around and under it, and every bone in his body was crushed. The spokes of the wheel were broken and it was stopped. Other workmen, who came to find out what had caused the wheel to stop, found the mangled body of Reppel in the pit, under the wheel.

It was with difficulty taken out of the pit. The man's neck and back were broken and his clothing was almost all torn off of him.

Dr. Campbell was called, but there was no need. The body was taken to his home. Reppel leaves a wife and two children. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Reppel. He had been employed a long time at the mill and was a steady and reliable man.

The supposition is that he either slipped and fell against the wheel or that he was oiling the machinery and his clothing caught in it.

SHERIFF ATTACHES CAR OF CORN

Merchants' National Bank Alleged in Court That Forrester Bros. Attempted to Conceal Assets.

Wednesday morning the Mechanics' National Bank filed in the Circuit Court a petition for an attachment against Forrester Bros., a well-known grain commission house on Third street.

The petition alleges that Forrester Bros. secured from the bank the sum of $700 on a note and have made no effort to repay the same. It is further alleged in the petition that the firm has concealed certain assets with the express view of defrauding the plaintiff.

The attachment was issued and Deputy Sheriff Kilcullen levied on a car load of corn that was standing on the Terminal tracks.

IS JAMES O. GODELL DEAD?

Has Been Missing Two Years and Insurance Company Defers Payment.

Virginia E. Godell, wife of James O. Godell,, missing from home for two years and of whom nothing has been heard during that time, brought suit in division 6 of the Circuit Court against the New York Life Insurance Co., to compel payment on a $2000 policy on the life of her husband held by that company.

She claims that her husband is dead. The insurance company does not dispute the claim, but contests the payment of the policy on the grounds that the law allows it to defer payment two years in cases of this kind.

Mrs. Clementine Richmond,

Vice-President of the Forum Club of Chicago.

EVER since the days when people believed somewhere on the earth there existed a fountain of eternal youth, every branch of science has been developed in the endeavor to prolong human life. In this way the means have been discovered and put into practical use whereby thousands of lives, which would have otherwise been lost, have been saved. Today the practice of medicine is almost an exact science. Controlling fevers, destroying the germs of infectious disease while they are in the blood, deadening the nerves by anæsthetics and producing respiration by artificial means, all go to show what control science has over the human functions.

Upon the same exact scientific demonstration the greatest specific for woman, Wine of Cardui, has been developed and more than a million complete cures bear testimony to its worth. There is no mystery about Wine of Cardui. It is a simple and natural emmenagogue which brings strength and health to sick and suffering women by regulating the disordered menses which nine times out of ten cause their trouble. With the menses appearing regularly health returns, the drains cease and the blood is put in perfect order.

Mrs. Clementine Richmond, of Chicago, Ill., after suffering eight years with ulceration of the womb got relief by taking Wine of Cardui. This medicine stopped the drains and relieved the blood of the poison that was in her system and could not escape. Correct menstrual habits cleanse the blood, but irregular menses both weaken and poison it. Wine of Cardui cured Mrs. Richmond's troubles by regulating menstruation. She says:

"As a specific for female troubles Wine of Cardui is certainly a superior medicine. I suffered for eight years with ulceration of the womb and although my family physician prescribed different remedies, and I used a number of douches and washes, I seemed only to get worse and finally gave up in despair and decided that health would never be mine again. Fortunately this spring one of your little books was left at my door and as I read how other sick women had been cured by using Wine of Cardui, new hope sprang up in my heart and I tried it. I was very pleased to find that relief came very soon and at my next menstrual period the pains were greatly lessened and within seven weeks I was well."

Health may be secured by every woman who will treat herself as Mrs. Richmond did. But you need not suffer eight long years before relief comes. You can secure it this week. Continued suffering makes the disease chronic and harder to cure. The women who write of these happy cures are women who act—who when they are convinced go directly to their druggist and get the medicine and take it. No one has ever been cured by putting off treatment. Are your menses irregular? Are they painful? If they are, you cannot afford to let this trouble run on a day longer. Wine of Cardui is the treatment you need. Any woman who has ever taken it will tell you that. If you think your case needs advice, write a letter to The Ladies' Advisory Department, The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., and a letter of advice will be sent you. If you begin taking Wine of Cardui today, you will feel the improvement in a very few days. Thedford's Black-Draught, its companion medicine, helps greatly in effecting a cure by regulating the bowels which are frequently constipated in cases of female trouble. Go to your druggist and secure a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui—Now.

WINE OF CARDUI RELIEVES ALL "FEMALE ILLS".

THE GREATEST EVENT OF THE YEAR IN ST. LOUIS.

Everybody is saying that this last year was prosperous because everybody seemed to have more money. But when it was all counted up at the end of the year how much more comfort did the average family have? The cost of living was so much higher that people really did not get much more for their money. But a great thing is going to happen in a few days. A new kind, a better kind of a department store is going to open on Broadway.

The Meyer Store promises to save every family in St. Louis from fifty cents to a dollar out of every five dollars they spend for clothing and a similar saving on all kinds of wares. This is no idle dream, nor yet an empty promise. The Meyer Store is part and parcel of a buying syndicate of eastern stores whose annual purchases amount to over twenty-five million dollars, and buys its goods cheaper than any other store west of the Mississippi. No credits, discounts or commissions will be allowed and the saving in expense will be deducted from the prices asked.

The Meyer Store therefore means just what it says when it promises to sell the same article for less money or a better article for the same money. Then you can save money in some other ways, as The Meyer Store will trim hats free, repair clothing free, polish shoes free and do a lot of other things free, just to make the measure good.

Keep your eye on that wonderful talking sign the mechanics are building on the corner of the store. It is the most wonderful piece of mechanical spelling that has ever been shown in St. Louis, and when that sign begins talking at the rate of forty sentences a minute the streets will be blockaded and the cars stopped. Watch for the opening of this wonderful new store, the store that is different.

Hats Trimmed Free.

Tramps Borrow a Horse.

Two tramps secured the loan of a horse from Mrs. Mary Duff of 4417 Clayton avenue Monday morning by representing that they had been sent by a Mr. Hobstetter, whom she knows. They said they wanted the horse to pull their wagon a short distance, their horse having taken sick. Mrs. Duff has not seen the horse since, but has learned the men used Hobstetter's name without his authority.

CURES WEAK MEN FREE.

Insures Love and a Happy Home For All.

How any man may quickly cure himself after years of suffering from sexual weakness, lost vitality, night losses, varicocele, etc., and enlarge small weak organs to full size and vigor. Simply send your name and address to Dr. Knapp Medical Co., 2918 Hull Bldg., Detroit, Mich., and they will gladly send the free receipt with full directions so any man may easily cure himself at home. This is certainly a most generous offer, and the following extracts taken from their daily mail, show what men think of their generosity:

"Dear Sirs:—Please accept my sincere thanks for yours of recent date. I have given your treatment a thorough test and the benefit has been extraordinary. It has completely braced me up. I am just as vigorous as when a boy and you cannot realize how happy I am."

"Dear Sirs:—Your method worked beautifully. Results were exactly what I needed. Strength and vigor have completely returned and enlargement is entirely satisfactory."

"Dear Sirs:—Yours was received and I had no trouble of making use of the receipt as directed, and can truthfully say it is a boon to weak men. I am greatly improved in size, strength and vigor."

All correspondence is strictly confidential, mailed in plain, sealed envelope. The receipt is free for the asking and they want every man to have it.

TRIAL SHOULD BE FAIR TO THE STATE

—JAMES L. BLAIR.

THERE ARE WHISPERINGS OF JURIES TO BE FIXED.

BOODLERS MUST BE PUNISHED.

Young Men's Christian Association Addressed Tuesday Night Upon the Topic.

James L. Blair spoke before the Young Men's Christian Association Tuesday night on "What Constitutes a Good Citizen?"

Mr. Blair discussed the investigation of municipal scandals as follows:

Citizens Most Important Duty.

"I come now finally to the most important duty of the citizen, and that is the protection of community property from the marauders of high and low degree, who steal from the people those public utilities which are among their most valuable possessions. It will profit us but little to keep our city clean, orderly and free from crimes of violence if we allow the hoodlum from the slums, who, by reason of our neglect of civic duty, masquerades as an assemblyman, to sell, and the capitalist, no less guilty, though more pretentious of virtue, to buy franchises which are the property of all the people. They should be sold, but the proceeds should go into the public treasury, and not into safe deposit boxes, to be divided among corrupt assemblymen. They should be sold, but openly and above board, to the highest bidder, and not in dark corners by an avowed go-between of the bribe giver and the bribe taker; one who insolently poses as an expert in this infamy and brazenly bills for business in his degraded specialty; who condemns those who are caught in the meshes of the law only for their bungling stupidity in not employing him, flaunting himself before a shocked and humiliated people as the only possessor of sufficient skill and cunning to steal their property with secrecy and dispatch, and without risk either to the perjured official or the smiling hypocrite, clad in purple and fine linen, who buys the stolen goods.

Folk and Jurors Are Good Citizens.

"Gentlemen, the circuit attorney who fearlessly exposes these corruptionists is a good citizen; the grandjurors who present them, though they be of high estate and clad in the panoply of wealth and prestige, they are good citizens. They have done their duty without fear and without reproach. But they alone cannot crown this good work with success without the aid of all other good citizens. Already there are whisperings of petit juries that are to be 'fixed.' Even now whenever a case is called there is the flight of 'material witnesses,' the cry is raised of a 'community so prejudiced that the defendant cannot have a fair trial,' and doctors' certificates of 'serious illness of the accused are as promptly presented as innkeepers' bills. Arrayed against the state's attorney in these cases (and he is our attorney; he represents every one of us) is a solid phalanx of wealth, influence and rascality; wealth consisting of contributions from bribe money received in former transactions unfortunately barred by the statute of limitations, and hush money paid by those who, having robbed the community, are now blackmailed to preserve their sham respectability; influence which by devious ways penetrates the whole social body from the lowest wineroom corruptor of morals to the top stratum of 'leading citizens,' a veritable amalgamated association of public plunderers, an artists' guild of past masters in the art of treasury looting.

State Must Also Have Fair Trial.

"Against these forces, aided by skilled and experienced counsel, our attorney must contend, single handed, for in our tender solicitude lest no innocent man be punished, we administer our criminal law in such wise as to throw every advantage in favor of the accused. In our overanxiety for exact justice we discriminate at every turn against the state. Of course, these men should have a fair trial, but the trial should also be fair to the state. Frivolous pleas, tortuous methods to gain time, should, in the interest of exact justice, be brushed aside. If these crimes have been committed the sooner that fact is established and the criminals punished the better for the community. If they have not been committed, if the accused are not guilty, there should be no difficulty in speedily establishing their defense.

"Now is the time for us to show whether we are inert and listless, or bold and aggressive citizens; it is a supreme test of good citizenship. If we wish to be good citizens only in name, let us continue in the old way and do nothing. But if we wish to be effective elements for good in this community, if we wish to count for something in this struggle to preserve our common property, let us stand up for the city, hold up the hands of our public officers by word and deed, get into the firing line in this great cause of the people vs. the plunderers, and thus vindicate the value and the power of that mighty influence for good—public opinion."

Missouri Day at Charleston.

Missouri Day at Charleston fix. If the date is acceptable to Gov. Dockery, April 23 will be designated as Missouri Day at the Charleston Exposition. Charles C. Bell, now in St. Louis, was sent here by the Missouri commission at Charleston to arrange with the World's Fair officials and secure their co-operation in having a joint celebration. Mr. Bell found that the Fair officials favored the plan and it is likely that the day set apart for Missourians at the exposition will be called Louisiana Purchase Day.

If the German prince were not a prince he might easily be an American.

President Roosevelt will visit the Charleston Exposition and his welcome there is likely to be quite as hearty as it would be anywhere else in the Union.

The St. Louis driver who tried to drive his big wagon between the carriages of the royal procession may have been one of the kind that makes trouble every day for the motormen and delays the street car passengers. He will have great opportunities when the World's Fair crowd arrives.

John Wanamaker, the American merchant prince, has shown himself a capable newspaper reporter in the account of the papal jubilee he cabled to the Post-Dispatch. There is a good deal of newspaper talent awaiting development among the prominent business men of the United States.

CLEAN THE STREETS.

Citizens who feel the need of convincing example should take a walk down Olive street from Grand to Broadway.

The street is clean, actually clean.

The sight is well worth a walk from Carondelet or North St. Louis, and once seen it is enough to inspire the most callous-hearted with an enthusiasm for cleanliness which will not be satisfied until every other street in the city is in a condition as good.

The intolerably filthy condition of the streets of St. Louis is a source of shame to every self-respecting citizen.

The cost in dollars and cents cannot be calculated. Muddy boots, bedraggled skirts and dust-covered coats and hats tell the sad tale of this expensive neglect.

Olive street is clean. Keep it so, and make every other street in the city a field for the operation of white wings. If citizens insist upon this it will be done.

The anti-trust bill before the Kentucky legislature is denounced by the labor unions because it prohibits boycotting, and it may not become a law.

THE PRINCE'S GOOD TASTE.

Just before leaving St. Louis Prince Henry caught a glimpse of a group of St. Louis ladies who were shooting bright glances in his direction and remarked the beauty of the women of the city.

One of the chief charms of St. Louis is the beauty of the St. Louis women. St. Louisans are proud of it, yet it was one of the attractions to which Mayor Wells and his reception committee failed to introduce the prince.

Why? The question is asked by a correspondent in the letter column of the Post-Dispatch today.

Certainly a man cannot be said to be acquainted with a city or a country unless he knows its better part. Prince Henry met only the worse half of St. Louis and his remark about the beauty of the St. Louis women indicates that he was conscious of his loss. There was probably a tone of regret, if not reproach, in his voice. He realized that St. Louis had attractions well worth going thousands of miles to see, but he had been deprived of all except a passing glimpse.

Whatever may be the faults of princes, they have never been accused of inability to recognize and appreciate female beauty. The prince has proved his taste by recognizing the high type of beauty exemplified by the women of St. Louis.

If he had enjoyed better opportunities to study the beauties of St. Louis there is no telling what the effect would be on the World's Fair attendance from the aristocratic circles of Germany.

The Illinois Central has found the railroad telephone a success. It talks well a distance of 400 miles. Whatever facilitates railroad business adds to our prosperity, and the railroad telephone will therefore be welcomed.

SMOKE ABATEMENT ABATES.

The practicability of smoke abatement is attested by a number of coal consumers who relate their experience in the Sunday Post-Dispatch.

The proof of the pudding is in the eating. The proof of the possibility of smoke abatement is the abatement of smoke.

The manufacturers and other coal users quoted testify that their devices have worked well. Some have devices which consume all the smoke, and not only do not add to the expense, but positively diminish it.

Prof. C. H. Benjamin of Cleveland, where the smoke problem is practically a thing of the past, says that in that city they have "demonstrated that the down-draught furnaces will prevent from 90 to 95 per cent of smoke and will effect a great saving in fuel."

Testimony like this ought to be conclusive.

If smoke ought to be abated, and can be abated, then there should be a determined effort to this end. To let the nuisance go on is to subject the business of the city to needless loss and the comfort of citizens to wanton invasion.

The Moon bill makes the Indian Territory the Territory of Jefferson, gives it a legislature and provides land for public highways. A House committee has recommended a favorable report on this bill.

ARE ALL MEN LIARS?

"All men are liars," said the psalmist, centuries ago, and Mrs. Nancy B. Irving of Chicago believes this saying is still true. "They are all alike—gamblers and thieves, deacons and ministers."

A year ago Mrs. Irving offered a prize of $1000 to any man who could prove that he had told the truth, and the truth only, for 30 consecutive days without going out of business. No one has yet proved a claim to the money, although, to use her own words, "there were hundreds of thousands" of contestants.

Consequently Mrs. Irving has come to the conclusion that "our civilization is crude and raw." Nearly all of the applicants seemed to think that lying is a matter of oral expression. According to Mrs. Irving, "probably not one of them will ever believe that since society was evolved there have been a hundred-fold more lies of repression than of expression." Concerning the multitude of contestants for the $1000 she says: "Either they were honest and could not prove it, or they were dishonest and tired of trying to prove a lie. But they all lost."

Whereas a year ago she was "calm, serene, confident and hopeful," fully believing that the money would be claimed and that humanity would be able to vindicate itself to that extent, her only expression now is: "Pitiful! Pitiful!"

But is this a fair test? A man may be a good husband and father, and yet unable to prove the fact, except in a negative way, inasmuch as he was never known to abuse his wife and children. He may be a good citizen, and yet unable to produce evidence satisfactory to a person a thousand miles away. He may be honest in his financial transactions, yet unable to prove to his neighbor that he never cheated anybody. In like manner a man may be truthful and yet unable to prove to a stranger, as in these cases, that he is not a liar.

Mrs. Irving should give us another chance.

President Roosevelt has let the railroad managements of the entire country know that the interstate commerce law and the Sherman law will be enforced to the letter. In his speech four days before the assassination of President McKinley, Mr. Roosevelt declared that we should find it necessary in the future to shackle cunning. Is he now about to put on the nippers?

ADDITIONAL MAIL AND TRAIN SERVICE.

In his talk to the Manufacturers' Association Postmaster Baumhoff, while admitting the need of fast mail service, concentrated attention on a new fast mail morning train on the Frisco Railway, which has already announced a new fast afternoon train.

Conceding the advantages claimed by Mr. Baumhoff for a new fast mail train into the Southwest for the business community as well as the morning newspapers, the great need of fast mail and mail facilities in other directions and the great advantages of additional day mail and traffic facilities should not be overlooked.

To the east, southeast and north are great territories which should be brought into the St. Louis zone of rapid communication and travel. By increasing the day service with fast trains coming into the city in the morning and leaving in the afternoon at convenient hours a great territory extending from 100 to 150 miles around the city may be made immediately tributary, practically suburban, to St. Louis. The people of this territory with convenient train service, which will enable them to come and return in one day, can be brought to the city to trade. The increased mail facilities would be of tremendous advantage to the business men.

The business men should agree upon a program of additional facilities at this time and go after it with vigor and determination. It should be claimed as a right because St. Louis is the commercial center of a vast and rapidly developing territory and, specially, because St. Louis is a World's Fair city, where the mail and railway facilities will be tested within the near future by visitors from all over the world. What better exhibit for the government and the railways than a complete mail and train service—the necessaries of commercial activity.

The business men can get any reasonable program that they claim with intelligent, harmonious and energetic effort. They will not get more than they claim, nor anything unless they claim it.

Texans in the city say that there is not a cross-roads in their state that is not talking St. Louis. Every Texan seems to recognize in the World's Fair the greatest opportunity the Empire State of the South has ever been offered.

MILK INSPECTION IN ST. LOUIS.

Tuesday's Post-Dispatch contained an article of great interest to the milk users of St. Louis. It bristled with facts and figures showing that under present conditions the user of milk has no protection against fraud and the disease and suffering that may result from such fraud.

The existing ordinance providing for milk inspection was passed 13 years ago. In 1891, the State Supreme Court declared this law invalid. Since then repeated efforts to obtain the passage of new ordinances for milk inspection have been defeated. The milk inspector has no deputies, although it is a physical impossibility for him to do all the work required. As he cannot prosecute offenders under the law, his work has become largely perfunctory, consisting chiefly of an annual report to the mayor on the violations of an invalid law, on which report nothing is ever done. The entire duty of milk inspection has become a farce and accomplishes practically nothing in the way of safeguarding the citizens against frauds in milk.

Yet the inspector admits that such frauds are common. And, as everyone knows, this means constant danger of disease and even death to the people. Children especially suffer because of this neglect on the part of the city to protect them. Every year terrible sickness and death are the result of poisoning caused by impure milk.

The Mayor and the Municipal Assembly should not permit this disgraceful state of affairs to continue. St. Louis is far behind many other cities in this matter of milk inspection. It should not be difficult to pass an effective law. Such a law is of vital importance to the public health.

In shoes, in hardware, in dry goods, in millinery, in hats, in stoves and ranges, in saddlery, in paint, in clothing, in iron and steel the great increase in St. Louis for the past year has gone beyond all previous records. The present year may even far surpass 1901 in our commercial growth.

The United States Supreme Court has affirmed the decision of the Illinois Supreme Court which declared to be valid the Illinois law against dealing in futures. This is a serious blow to "business" over the river.

Of most impressive dignity.
Side whiskers quite a few he wore,
And could have raised a-plenty more,
Had they been necessary; for
He had to have them, don't you see,
Else how could he
Become a Reverend D. D.?

His age was thirty-two or three,
But he
Was old enough, they said, to be
Known as D. D.
He traveled to the Holy Land
Some years ago, you understand,
And trod the Asiatic strand,
And when he came from o'er the sea,
In 1893,
They called him "doctor." As for me,
To save my life, I ne'er could see
How he obtained the high degree
Of Doctor of Divinity.
Pray, who does know? Do you? Does he?

Jolly Good Fellows.

After declaring many thousands of times that Sir Thomas Lipton "is a jolly good fellow, which nobody can deny," we are now applying the term to Prince Henry. If Oom Paul Kruger were to come over here we would probably call him a jolly good fellow, too.

Are there no j. g. f.'s on this side of the world? Or is this only our little way of showing our visitors that we are surprised to find them so decent?

Prince Henry saluted the populace, rode in a landau without the royal crest, sat at meat with a choice bunch of St. Louisans and proposed a toast to the city; having done which, these gentlemen suddenly discovered that the prince was a jolly good fellow, which nobody can deny, and burst forth in merry strains of song at the breakfast table.

There is democracy with a vengeance!

But that is our style, exactly. We won't allow anybody to "lay it over us," no matter how many titles he may wear, and we insist on calling him a jolly good fellow, just to show him he is no better than we are. Should King Edward VII come over here on a little jaunt, he would receive many a slap on the back and many a sly dig in the ribs, and he, too, would be initiated and firmly installed as a life member of the Amalgamated Federation of J. G. F. Which nobody can deny.

Carrie Outdone.

We thought that Carrie Nation was a wonder in her line,
The way she cut the bars in two and spilled the beer and wine.
She shed destruction in her path and made her all awry;

But Carrie was a tyro at arousing perturbation,
Compared with what her sister does. (Her name is Vacci Nation.)

Spring.

I do not sigh for riches, nor
For rubies, pearls or anything
That sordid misers keep in store:
I only sigh for balmy spring.

I would not envy any king
His crown—to wear it were a bore—
If this were spring.

Of nature I would ask no more
If I could hear the robins sing
And lie along some grassy shore
And fish, in spring.

WHY THE INDIAN FAILS.

(William A. Jones, in the World's Work.)

There are in operation at the present time 113 boarding schools, with an average attendance of something over 16,000 pupils, ranging from 5 to 21 years old. These pupils are gathered from the cabin, the wickiup and the tepee. Partly by cajolery and partly by threats, partly by bribery and partly by fraud, partly by persuasion and partly by force, they are induced to leave their kindred to enter these schools and take upon themselves the outward semblance of civilized life. They are chosen not on account of any particular merit of their own, not by reason of mental fitness, but solely because they have Indian blood in their veins. Without any previous training, without any preparation whatever, they are transported to the schools, sometimes thousands of miles away, with no expense to themselves or their people. The Indian youth finds himself at once, as if by magic, translated from a state of poverty to one of affluence. He is well fed and clothed and lodged. Books and all the accessories of learning are given him, and teachers are provided to instruct him. He is educated both in the industrial and the liberal arts. Beyond the three r's" he is instructed in geography, grammar and history; he is taught drawing, algebra, geometry, music, astronomy, physiology, botany and entomology. Matrons wait on him while he is well and physicians and nurses tend him when he is sick. A steam laundry does his washing and the latest modern appliances do his cooking. A library affords him relaxation for his leisure hours, athletic sports and the gymnasium furnish him with exercise and recreation, while music entertains him in the evening. He has hot and cold baths, steam heat and electric light and all the modern conveniences. The child of the wigwam becomes a modern Aladdin, who has only to rub the government lamp to gratify his desires.

He remains until his education is finished, when he is returned to his home, which by contrast must seem squalid indeed; to the parents whom his education must make it impossible to honor and is left to make his way against the ignorance and bigotry of his tribe. Is it any wonder he fails? Is it surprising if he lapses into barbarism? Not having earned his education, it is not appreciated. It is looked upon as a right, and not as a privilege; it is accepted as a favor to the government and not to the recipient and the almost inevitable tendency is to encourage dependence, foster pride and create a spirit of arrogance and selfishness.

MEAT AX RHYMES.

Speaking of poetry, we always like to keep in touch with the Fayette (W. Va.) Journal. Mr. Jo Hill is an occasional contributor to the Journal, and last week he handed in this one:

"The poor, benighted Hindoo,
He does the best he kindo;
He sticks to his caste from first to last,
And for pants, he makes his skindo."

We are prepared to hear from the critics who will insist that Jo should have used wood trousers instead of skindo pants, but the Fayette folk wear pants and Jo understands his readers.—Ex.

TREASURE TROVE FROM THE POETS

POEMS YOU OUGHT TO KNOW.

TO HELEN.

Helen, thy beauty is to me
Like those Nicaean barks of yore,
That gently o'er a perfumed sea
The weary, wayworn wanderer bore
To his own native shore.

On desperate seas long wont to roam
Thy hyacinth hair, thy classic face,
Thy naiad airs, have brought me home
To the glory that was Greece,
And the grandeur that was Rome.

Lo! in yon brilliant window niche
How statuelike I see thee stand,
The agate lamp within thy hand!
Ah, Psyche, from the regions which Are Holy Land!

—Edgar Allan Poe.

TIPPECANOE AND TYLER TOO.

O! what has caused this great commotion, motion, motion,
Our country through?
It is the ball that's rolling on,
For Tippecanoe and Tyler too,
For Tippecanoe and Tyler too,
And with them we'll beat little Van, Van, Van, Van, O! he's a used-up man!
And with them we'll beat little Van.

Like the working of mighty waters, waters, waters,
On it will go;
And in its course we'll clear the way,
For Tippecanoe and Tyler too,
For Tippecanoe and Tyler too,
And with them we'll beat little Van, Van, Van, Van, O! he's a used-up man!
And with them we'll beat little Van.

The Bay State boys turned out in thousands, thousands, thousands,
Not long ago;
And at Bunker Hill they set their seals
For Tippecanoe and Tyler too,
For Tippecanoe and Tyler too,
And with them we'll beat little Van, Van, Van, Van, O! he's a used-up man!
And with them we'll beat little Van.

Now you hear the Van-jacks talking, talking, talking,
Things look quite blue,
For all the world seems turning round
For Tippecanoe and Tyler too,
For Tippecanoe and Tyler too,
And with them we'll beat little Van, Van, Van, Van, O! he's a used-up man!
And with them we'll beat little Van.

Let them talk about hard cider, cider, cider,
And Log Cabins, too,
It will only help to speed the ball,
For Tippecanoe and Tyler too,
For Tippecanoe and Tyler too,
And with them we'll beat little Van, Van, Van, Van, O! he's a used-up man!
And with them we'll beat little Van.

His latch-string hangs outside the door, door, door,
And never is pulled in,
For it always was the custom of
Old Tippecanoe and Tyler too,
Old Tippecanoe and Tyler too,
And with them we'll beat little Van, Van, Van, Van, O! he's a used-up man!
And with them we'll beat little Van.

See the spoilsmen and leg treasurers, treasurers, treasurers,
All in a stew.
For well they know they stand no chance
With Tippecanoe and Tyler too,
With Tippecanoe and Tyler too,
And with them we'll beat little Van, Van, Van, Van, O! he's a used-up man!
And with them we'll beat little Van.

Little Matty's days are numbered, numbered, numbered,
And out he must go,
For in his place we'll put the good
Old Tippecanoe and Tyler too,
Old Tippecanoe and Tyler too,
And with them we'll beat little Van, Van, Van, Van, O! he's a used-up man!
And with them we'll beat little Van.

IF I SHOULD DIE TONIGHT.
(Reprinted by request.)

If I should die tonight,
And you should come to my cold corpse and say,
Weeping and heartsick o'er my lifeless clay—
If I should die tonight,
And you should come in deepest grief and woe—
And say, "Here's that ten dollars that I owe,
I might arise in my large, white cravat,
And say, "What's that?"

If I should die tonight,
And you should come to my cold corpse and kneel,
Clasping my bier to show the grief you feel,
I say, if I should die tonight
And you should come to me and there and then
Just hint 'bout payin' me that ten,
I might arise the while,
But I'd drop dead again.

PUZZLES AND THEIR SOLUTION

Field and Trees.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Kindly publish this field and tree puzzle in your valuable paper:

A farmer rented a house and field to five tenants. There were ten trees in the field, and each tenant was to have an equal portion of the field and two trees. How did he arrange the division?

Number of Guests.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

D. A. Tuholski's dinner problem is a "cinch." It may be easily found by the rules of simple progression that the persons must dine together 5040 times.

Now, I should like to offer the following: If a hundred stones be placed in a straight line at the distances of a yard from each other, the first being at the same distance from a basket, how many yards must the person walk who engages to pick them up one by one and put them into the basket?

Running Train, Flying Shot.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

There is a train one mile long, running on straight track at the rate of 60 miles an hour. On the last car is situated a cannon; on the engine a target. The cannot shoots a 6-inch tapering missile. How far will the train run before the missile hits the target? The wind is blowing 30 miles an hour in the same direction as the train is going. Would like some of the Post-Dispatch readers to figure this problem out and satisfy an old St. Louis. "READER."

An Error Corrected.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

In reading today's paper I notice that the committee having charge of the firemen's fund decided that the families of Dundon and Westerhoff are not to get anything from the fund collected. When the subject was brought up it was decided to get a fund up for the seven firemen that were killed, and not only five, and that is why all of the people cheerfully responded, and now the committee says only five shall get it. Is this right?

St. Louis. I. MEYERPETUR.

You write under a misapprehension of fact. The news item referred only to the regular firemen's pension fund, not to the special fund raised by the public for the families of the seven dead firemen. The committee in charge of that fund decided to include each of the seven families in its benefits.—Editor Post-Dispatch.

A Faulty Sewer Cover.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

In the alley in the rear of 2529 Hebert street the iron sewer cover is faulty. Passing by would reveal nothing, but close examination will show that the cover and frame are shifted so much out of place that a horse stepping near the southwest edge is very apt to step into the sewer hole and break its leg. There is another small hole at this point (the southwest edge) and in wet weather it is soft. The cover is gradually shifting more and more to one side. It should also be lowered to answer the purpose of drainage for the alley. It was reported to a police sergeant, but nothing has been done. Knowing that anything worthy of attention reported to the Post-Dispatch would be attended to prompted the writer to address the greatest newspaper in the West. Yours respectfully,

F. DODT.

Women Feel Slighted.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I noticed that Prince Henry of Prussia paid a deserved compliment to the beauty of the women of St. Louis. He might have paid a compliment to their intelligence had he been able to observe them at closer range.

And, by the way, why was it that the women of St. Louis were not permitted to participate in the reception supposed to be exended by the American people to a representative of the German people? Are not the women of America as representative of the American people as are the men? Why have the women of America been kept in the background at every reception accorded Prince Henry since his landing on our shores?

Is it because they are thought too inconsequential to be brought forward or is it—which is more probable—that the American man is jealous of the American women since she has come into her kingdom. Maybe it was thought the independence and self-assertiveness of the American women would be contrasted by the prince, did he understand it, with the wonderful servility of the German woman in Germany? Was it supposed that the result would be that in the prince's eyes American manhood would be looked upon as lacking stamina and that kingly quality of which it is the wont of American men to boast.

I have told my own husband what I think of him as a member of the reception committee, but I thought I would like other men to see that we women feel we were slighted and slighted intentionally.

WEST END.

Selfish Husbands and Wives.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

In answer to "Topaz" in this evening's Post-Dispatch, must say that he has my sympathy, for I am placed in exactly his condition.

My husband while at his business during the day has a chance to and does see his friends, and when he gets home in the evening, he, too, reads the Post-Dispatch and goes to bed. None of his friends come to the house, and if he should once in a great while happen to meet any of my acquaintances at the house when he gets home, he acts so indifferent and nervous as if he wanted them to leave so he could read and go to bed, and it gets me so uncomfortable that I feel as though I am anything else but entertaining.

I believe my advice to you would be to go out alone and seek pleasure elsewhere. This is what I would do myself, but being a woman, of course, it would not be right, and my husband would not approve of it. You being a man can do as you please, your wife must stand it, or go back to mamma, relatives or friends or wherever she will, and she would then have plenty of time to think over the past, and "what might have been" had she been a more agreeable companion.

Its a pretty bad state of affairs. I love my husband with all his faults, and he has several, but I often think of leaving him, for I get so disgusted with him sometimes, but I wonder if I will be more miserable away from him than with him as he is. This is all that has kept me from it. Could any one advie me? M. L.

Missouri Pan-American Awards.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I have received from Mr. James L. Farmer, in charge of the bureau of awards at the Pan-American Exposition, the following letter, which will explain to Missouri exhibitors why they have not yet received their awards.

CHARLES C. BELL.
Commissioner Horticultural Exhibits.

Charleston, S. C.
Feb. 24, 1902.—Col. C. C. Bell, Missouri Commission, Charleston, S. C.—Dear Sir: I am just in receipt of your letter of Feb. 17, in reference to the diplomas for the Missouri exhibitors in the fresh fruit department at the Pan-American Exposition.

In reply I have to advise you that these diplomas are now being prepared, and will be forwarded to your commission at Charleston at the very earliest possible moment—probably within the next two or three weeks.

I have noted the error mentioned in the Missouri list of awards, and have corrected same in the official copies. Yours very truly,

Stereotyped Phrases.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Why does the society editor so often say that two persons were "quietly married?" Such ceremonies are seldom performed on a housetop, with brass band accompaniment.—Post-Dispatch.

Now, don't ask questions that you can't answer yourself.

If you can answer the above you can answer the following: Why does the aforesaid society editor make a "high" noon of it, always and invariably, if the wedding is at 12 m.? Why does he (she or it) drape the trembling knees of the groom in "conventional" black? Why is one lady "gowned" the next "attired," the next one merely "distinguished" in various "creations" in regular rotation down a list of a hundred or two? Why are scores of other stereotyped phrases insisted upon, even to the verge of tears, phrases that either have no meaning or are out and out vulgarisms? I tried 10 years to find out, and knew no more of the solution of the puzzle than when my troubles commenced.

I notice Mr. McKenzie takes a fall out of the man who uses the phrase "it looks like" in the sense of "it looks as if." For a time I imagined the Cincinnati Enquirer had that peculiar perversion of English corrupted, but certainly any writer who has been about a newspaper long enough to be promoted from keeping tally on incoming steamboats knows the proper expression.

It is not a matter of vital importance that the report of a street encounter, a police court case, or any one of ten thousand minor happenings of the day be expressed with Addisonian elegance. It is a mistake, however, to imagine that the general public does not notice errors and resent them as blemishes and imperfections. The Post-Dispatch is right in censuring misuse of the ruling language of the world. Those who share such an inheritance should do what they can to prevent the corruption.

BASEBALL, ATHLETICS, PUGILISM, SKATING--SPORT NEWS

SPORTING COMMENT

By J. E. Wray

It appears that Mr. J. Waidhunter Sloan, dissociated from his English turf connection through his alleged propensity for "accepting gifts," will again resume his connection with English racing and hobnob with the peerage, if not with royalty uncrowned.

A late dispatch from the other side announces that Sloan has been signed to ride for Sir Waldie Griffith and that the American rider will surely be restored to his former privileges and favor.

Following the statement of Lord Beresford that he would do all in his power to see that Sloan was granted a license, the announcement of Sloan's actual engagement appears to make it certain that the American jockey will again ride in England.

Mr. Sloan's English friends are very awkward in expressing their appreciation for his efforts in their behalf. "Gifts" in the shape of $1000 bank checks are awkward to explain to racing stewards. Why not try for the coming season of racing a Turner picture or a marble? They are less embarrassing to the recipient and are marketable.

DAY OF FATE IN BASEBALL.

Thursday will be a day of fate in the baseball world, with such an infinity of possibilities that the road to peace and harmony seems a difficult one to find, much less to tread.

Both leagues wait on the settlement of the legal controversy as to whether Spalding is by right president of the National League. But after it is all decided further dissension is promised, no matter which way it turns.

If Spalding is favored, the New York club threatens to flee to the American and involve that organization in a bitter argument, as well as leave the National League with, literally, its tail cut off.

If Freedman wins the Spalding clubs may not line up, with the remaining four and elect a successor. The uncertainty is harrowing to any mind that is permitted to think on the subject.

Just how the magnates themselves manage to evade suspicion of the board of lunacy is hard to figure. There is a nice, easy, logical way to figure the situation, according to which everything would go all right in theory. It is, therefore, the one which will probably not happen.

Strange as it may sound, with all the uncertainty that is going the rounds, the best thing that could happen would be for Spalding to lose his case.

In that event the American League would not be tempted to embroil itself in the matter over New York. Spalding, an unwholesome factor, it now appears, would be eliminated from baseball; excuse for further loyalty to him by the four supporting clubs would be destroyed, and a reasonable opportunity for harmony thus presented.

All the other ways have to contemplate Trouble hanging around the corner with a brick in his hand. It is a sad fate that what appears the one way of ending matters is the very way matters probably will not end.

MR. POST'S SCHEME.

The scheme of Mr. C. W. Post to try out the relative efficiency of British and American seamen and to find what part the sailor plays in the winning of international yacht races will probably meet the approbation of most people.

The close finishes of the Shamrock II and the Columbia, in the last cup races, certainly leave it open to question if some maneuver of seamanship should not have made up the few seconds that separated the finishing times of the two vessels in at least one instance.

Mr. Post's idea was to substitute American sailors for English on the Shamrock and English for the American on the Columbia and race the two again under the new conditions.

Sir Thomas has generously volunteered the loan of his yacht and Mr. Post will endeavor to carry out his pet idea. Whether there is anything in the belief that one expert set of men, ably officered, are any better than those of another nation is a much-mooted question. There are those who have said of the last international match, able critics, too, that the Shamrock was the better boat and with the American crew aboard would have won.

Mr. Post's idea would bring this point past the mere assertive stage into one of demonstration. It could do no harm to give it a trial, though it might reduce the rivalry to a more bitter and personal point as between the crews of the craft. It would be worth some sacrifice to know that our seamen, as well as our boats, have been winning races.

ROCHE TACTICS ARE BRAZEN.

About the most brazen admission ever made by a pugilistic manager—and some strong ones are on record from that quarter—is the one attributed to Billy Roche, manager of George Gardner, in an interview following the fight between his protege and Gus Gardner when the latter proved the surprise and the winner of the evening.

A story was circulated that it was all made up for McFadden to let his man go three rounds and then sail in. Roche states that he himself made up and gave out the story to save the reputation of his fighter.

Mr. Roche and his contemporaries in the game may be continually working "jobs" and "bluff" fights on a confiding Chicago public, but they should have the grace not to boast about it. It may have a bad effect on attendance later on.

This is the more to be observed since the policy of saving his man's fighting reputation by impugning his integrity will not appeal to the public as it does to Mr. Roche.

Doubtless such tactics as Mr. Roche claims for his protege on the occasion when he was supposed to be "double crossed" by Gardner are in vogue in many fights where the public has no knowledge of it. It is probably one explanation why form suffers such remarkable fluctuations at times.

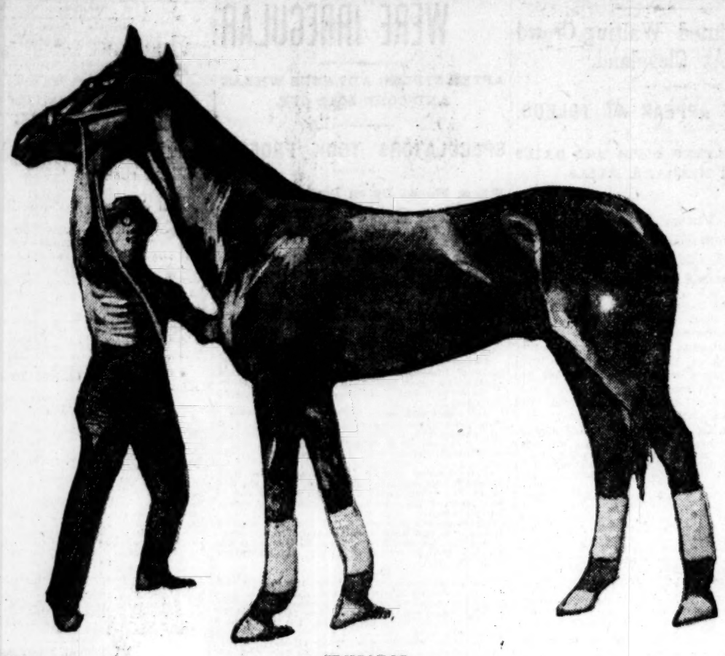

BRITAIN CROWDED TO THE WALL.

And still Americans continue to wrest athletic honors of all descriptions from the English.

The latest achievement across the water is that of John G. Milburn, a young American, who has just been appointed to row No. 4 on the Oxford University crew. Milburn has been a student at Oxford for two years, and distinguished himself in the Cambridge-Oxford athletic games of last year.

If Americans keep their encroachment of recent years English athletes will be crowded to the wall in their own country.

'VARSITY PLAYS A DARK HORSE

Moran Relied Upon to Win Half Mile Race From Visiting Stars.

St. Louis University is playing a "dark horse."

While Chicago is confident that it will capture the prize in the special three-cornered half-mile running event which is to be one of the features of the indoor athletic meeting scheduled for Saturday at the Coliseum, and the Notre Dame University contingent equally sure of winning in the person of Uffendell, who recently lowered the time for the distance, a noticeable quiet exists in the local camp.

St. Louis University will be represented in the big race by William Moran, formerly of Notre Dame, later of the First Regiment Athletic Club of Chicago, later still of Worcester, whose past accomplishments on the track entitle him to strong consideration as a candidate for first place.

Coach Delaney has given out all the records about the visiting athletes, but has quietly kept at work with his own candidate and it is believed expects to capture the special with his man. His care in handling the star runner shows that the St. Louis University expects to see its representative do more than well.

Moran captured the Massachusetts state half-mile championship twice in succession. Last fall at Milwaukee he established a world's record for the half mile. Uffendell has since passed this mark.

Delaney is probably playing Moran as a dark horse, who has an excellent chance for first place.

Additional entries received after the regular closing time of the lists from Smith Academy and Shurtleff College of Alton will probably be accommodated; the additional names can make little difference in the handicap allotments, as probably none of them are fast enough to disturb the good ones.

Coach White of the American School of Osteopathy is reported as announcing that he would send Demming to compete in the local events. Demming is the man who almost won the state intercollegiate meeting last May by himself.

ATHLETES ENTERED IN ST. L. U. GAMES.

MINOR LEAGUES BEGIN A WAR

Eastern Clubs Plan a Pool to Kill American Association.

BOSTON, March 5.—War is on against the American Baseball Association. The Eastern League and other members of the National Association of Professional Baseball Clubs have organized a pool and propose to buy off the star players of the "outlaw" league in an endeavor to force the new organization to the wall.

The men at the head of the movement, including P. H. Hurley, president of the Worcester Club, have been quietly at work for some time and have raised $10,000 for the purpose.

All of the Eastern League clubs have been approached. George Stallings will be the J. Pierpont Morgan of the pool and will shortly set out upon his mission, bound by no restrictions but instructed to sign any and all players whose departure from the association would weaken that organization.

The plan originally to be put in the hands of the National Association of Minor leagues, but the latter organization gave way to the aggressive tactics of the Eastern League people. The question of what the Eastern League is going to do with the players it secures has not been decided. Probably they will be divided up between the several teams.

The association is not a member of the National Association of minor leagues and was formally outlawed with its President, Thomas Hickey. All contracts of players with the American Association are therefore not recognized by the minor leagues, and predatory tactics are permissible.

The American Association has other troubles in that the Indianapolis team may not be allowed to play Sunday dates allotted it. President Watkins of that club states that if he is not allowed to play Sunday he will not play at all.

COURSING CLUB DIFFICULTIES

War Among Bill Posters Results in Covering Pastime Park Announcements With White Paper.

Coursing was temporarily obliterated from the local map Tuesday, as a result of a war between bill posting companies, now being waged to the death.

Secretary Benson of the Pastime Coursing Club and President John S. Bratton had made elaborate preparations in the shape of costly posters announcing the running of the spring inaugural stake for next Sunday.

The posters were distributed all over the city on Monday, and the management of the park retired with the consciousness of having done its duty and seen the city thoroughly placarded.

Rising next morning to view the effectiveness of its work, the management aforementioned was dumbfounded to find that nothing but blank posters remained where the announcement legends had before attracted the eye.

A rival bill board company had pasted blank sheets over all the work of its opponents, the coursing club's announcement with the rest.

Secretary Benson, through his attorney John Leahy, secured a restraining order against the aggressive posting company and the display posters again appeared in public.

President Bratton will put on a wild west show as feature of the opening of the spring season at Pastime Park.

AMERICAN LEAGUE MEETS IN DETROIT

President Ban Johnson Expects That Last Year's Rules Will Be Adopted.

DETROIT, Mich., March 5.—The magnates of the American League are in session here today at the Griswold House. The adoption of a playing schedule and playing rules for next season is the principal business before them, according to President Johnson, who said that he did not know of anything else of importance to be considered.

When President Johnson called the meeting to order at 11 o'clock, every club in the league except Boston was represented, and Johnson held the proxy for that city. Mr. Killilea, one of the owners of the Boston club, is expected tomorrow. Mr. C. W. Sommers will not be present at the meeting. Following are those present: Washington—Fred Postal and T. J. Loftus; Detroit—Messrs. McNamara, Cook and Angus; Cleveland—J. F. Kilfoile; St. Louis—C. J. McDiarmid; Philadelphia—B. F. Shibe and Connie Mack; Baltimore—Harry Goldman and Joe Kelly; Chicago—Chas. Comiskey.

L. R. Hedges, one of the owners of the St. Louis team is expected tomorrow. Before the meeting President Johnson said he thought the playing rules would be the first business taken up.

"I do not think," he said, "that there will be any changes made in last year's rules, which I expect will be readopted.

SPORT QUESTIONS ANSWERED

X. Y. Z.—A player has a right to order an opponent up in euchre in order to prevent his going alone. It makes no difference whether he holds trumps.

CENTURYS BEATEN IN CLOSE CONTEST

Strikes and Spares Won the Odd Game From Them on the Royal.

In a cocked-hat match on the Royal alleys Tuesday between the S. S. and Centurys the former team won the odd game. The winners averaged 50 17-25 and the losers 49 17-25. Dueker and Meier were the high men for Ss., while D. Bick and Eyerman excelled for the Centurys. The winners totaled 1267.

In the Alton League Remnants won from the Knockers Tuesday by a score of 3 to 2. Steck and Berner were the leaders of the winning team and Shaw and Dempsey topped the losers. The winners averaged a fraction over 49 and the Knockers went a little over 47. Remnants had 19 cocked pins and 121 misses.

Although the Eagles averaged higher and totaled more pins than the Kremers in their match at Alton Tuesday night, the latter still won by 3 to 2. The contest was close and exciting throughout. Kremer and Hack led the winners and Bitzer and Berner excelled for the losers.

On the Crescent alleys Tuesday night the Brokers whitewashed the 1903s by winning five consecutive games. Hoberg and Monteith did the best work for the winners, while Dodge and Kroker were the stars of the losing aggregation. The Brokers totaled 1246 against 1097 for the 1903s.

Leffingwells and Missouris of the Office Men's Club League had a hot contest Tuesday, the former winning the odd game. P. Helbig, with an average of 55 2-5, led the winners with E. Helbig and Hunkel tied for the place. Sullivan and Duckworth, both going over 50, led the losing team.

In the Woodward & Tiernan League the Jobs defeated the Binders by 3 to. Tuesday night. The Office and Jobs are now tied for first place on the league. Both teams averaged a fraction over 47, and had a very close contest for honors. The Jobs won the first game by only two pins and the third by one.

On the Acme alleys Tuesday a splendid game was witnesses between the Securities and Tigers although the latter lost all five games. Wyatt by totaling 208 pins, broke the league record, and made an average of 61 -35. In the second and fifth he scored 73 and 71. Howe and Kortjohn were the only members of the Tigers who averaged over 50.

On Schaab's alleys Tuesday the Black Labels won from the Blue Tops by a score of 3 to 2. It was a very close contest, the winners taking the third by only one pin. The general average was low. Ricks and Bickel led the Black Labels, while Roterman and Schluter excelled for the Blue Tops.

In the World's Fair League the Dolmans overwhelmed the Shenandoas and banked them by 5 to 0. Roedel and Everts were the leaders of the winning team, while Dunn was much the best of the losers. The Shenandoas rolled in poor form.

On Pueser's alleys Tuesday the Grands won from the Progressives by 3 to 2. Daugherty and Welty were out in front for the Grands, while Metz was in a class by himself for the Progressives. The average of the latter team was only 41.

Several records were broken on Pueser's alleys Tuesday night in the match between Puesers and Magazines. The former won five games and their total misses for the evening were but 66. Pueser totaled 239 and Kulage was close up with 276. The winners made a grand total of 1284, which is a league record.

Puesers and Columbias clashed on Pueser's alleys Tuesday, the former winning four out of five games. Kulage was high man for the Puesers with an average of 51 1-5, while G. Roebke made a 52 average for the Columbias.

Sherwoods whitewashed the Vandeventers on Roder's alleys Tuesday by winning five consecutive games. Jaques and Dueker led the winners, while Lewitz and Schaub excelled for the losers. The winners average 47 and a fraction and the losers only made 42 24-25.

In an interesting contest between the Unions and Bellevues of the Merchants' League Tuesday the former won the odd games. Both of the games won by the Bellevues were one-pin victories. Telter and Clark were high men for the Unions and Morsche and Niehauss topped the Bellevues.

Haupts blanked the Bauer & Blacks in a series Tuesday night. Score 5 to 0. White was much the best of the winners and Baby was the leader of the losers. The Bauer & Blacks made a low average, while the winners made 48 10-25.

Strikes May Be Settled.

Foreman Frederick Peper of the Christian Peper Tobacco Co.'s factory said Tuesday afternoon that the strike of 19 feeders in the factory would probably be settled Wednesday. The men struck because fellow workmen were discharged. Nearly 100 girls were kept idle because of the strike.

It is believed that the strike of 200 quarrymen who demand higher pay and shorter hours will be won. Some of the quarries have yielded to the demands.

DAVIDSON BROKE SKATING RECORD

Passed His Own Mark for High Jump on Runners by Half an Inch.

John Davidson, champion speed and fancy skater, broke the record for the high jump from skates, held by himself, at the Ice Palace, Tuesday, clearing 3 feet 10 inches, or one-half inch better than his old mark.

Davidson's jump is made from a flying start and on regulation racing runners. His mark has been passed under different conditions. A New York skater recently passed the four foot mark, but the record was not official, and was made from a stand with skates especially adapted for the performance.

Davidson's record is still officially high, and his jump of Tuesday evening advances it a notch. Davidson has an unofficial record for a standing high jump on skates of 4 feet 2 inches.

Thursday night Davidson is down to meet all comers in a half-mile or mile skating contest. No official list of entries have been announced as yet, but it is understood several local men will take a whirl at the champion.

In a hockey game between the Office Men and the Wafers Polo teams the Office Men won by a narrow margin, score 1 to 0, Kiely made the only goal of the evening. Lineup:

BASKET BALL TO BE RESUMED

Two Games Will Be Played Thursday Evening by League Teams at Louisiana Hall.

The St. Louis Basket Ball League will resume operations Thursday evening at the Louisiana building, 911 North Vandeventer avenue.

Two games are scheduled to be contested, one between the Monarchs and the Drummond guards of the First Regiment, the other between Company H, First Regiment, and the Lousianas.

Three teams in the league are fighting hard for first place, the Monarchs, Washingtons and High School Alumni. The Monarchs expect to get a clear title to first place Thursday night from the soldier boys Thursday night.

GOSSIP ABOUT PUGILISTS

Johnny Reagan is due to sign articles for his fight with Tommy Feitz today. In fact, he is overdue, that operation having been announced as in prospect for each day since Monday, by the West End Club management.

President Haughton stated that there would be no difficulty over the articles of agreement.

George Siler has it in the Chicago Tribune that Tommy Feitz is to meet Kid Goodman or Mike Memsic, whoever they may be, at Chicago March 12. In that case it is hardly likely that the local fight would take place the night following in St. Louis, as announced.

President Haughton stated positively that the affair would be held Thursday at the West End club.

As he has usually been right about his engagements, it is probable that the Chicago affair is not settled.

Harry Forbes' hand was so badly hurt in his fight with Feitz that it is announced he will be unable to use it for two months. His next battle will probably be with the English bantamweight, Williams, for the championship of the world. This affair is scheduled to take place before the National Sporting Club of London. It is a temptation to wonder what the champion's thoughts were when he saw the battle going against him in the eleventh round of his fight with Feltz. Forbes has been ambitious to make the English trip for some time, and to have a defeat stop it at this late day would probably have thoroughly disgusted him with the business.

Harry Harris and Danny Daugherty, two erstwhile champions, or so-called champions, have been lost to the prize ring for a time at least, through setbacks to their ambitions. Both are now assistant stage managers of theatrical productions, and think the revenues more certain than the doubtful tithes to be wrung from the fighting game. Harris thought he was featherweight champion until Austin Rice held him in check. Danny yielded his bantamweight honors to Harry Forbes in two battles.

M'FADDEN TO FIGHT GANS.

McFadden, the New York lightweight, who claimed he was double crossed in an arrangement with Gus Gardner during their recent Chicago fight, has been signed to fight Joe Gans before Al Herford's club at Baltimore. Gans has figured in some affairs, too, that did not exactly suit the critical nostrils of the pugilistic critics.

The affair recently arranged purports to be a 25-round match at 133 pounds, to take place March 27, under the auspices of the Eureka Athletic Club.

Malachy Hogan's decision in the Yanger-Broad fight caused something of a stir in the Windy City. Inasmuch as followers of both men claim victory should have been given to their side, it is probable that Hogan's was an unbiased opinion.

Eddie McFarland and Dummy Schenck are working hard for their 15-round battle, which is scheduled to take place before the St. Louis Rowing Club next Sunday.

The battle rated the best feature the Rowing Club has held for a long time and advance requests for seats are already out. Schenck and McFarland have met before, their latest effort being a six-round preliminary at the West End Club, which resulted in a draw.

McFarland is the cleverest of the two, but Schenck is supposed to have the trump that turns the trick in his right arm.

GASOLINE TORCH EXPLODED

Saloon Fixtures Destroyed by Fire and Bartender's Feet Severely Burned.

The fixtures and most of the contents of A. Cepatowski's saloon, 1322 Market street, were destroyed by fire at 2:15 o'clock Wednesday morning, and George Hanser, the bartender, who was sleeping in the rear of the saloon, was badly burned about the feet.

The family of A. R. Maneace, colored, living above the saloon, escaped by a rear stairway. Maneace was awakened by the smoke, and aroused his wife, son and daughter, and all fled in their nightclothes.

Hanser was taken to the City Hospital, where his burned feet were attended to. He then left for his room.

The fire was caused by the explosion of a gasoline torch, which had been left burning in the rear of the saloon.

The damage to the saloon and to the furniture of the family above will exceed $600.

WALSH POPULAR IF IMPOLITE

Discharge of Employe on Ground of Impoliteness Causes a Strike at Peper Tobacco Factory.

The strike at the Christian Peper tobacco factory, caused by the discharge of a man whom the firm accused of being impolite, was settled Tuesday evening and the men and girls returned to work Wednesday.

For two days the entire plant was shut down in consequence of Joseph Walsh's alleged impoliteness. Walsh, whether impolite or Chesterfieldian, is a great favorite with the other employes. All the girls like Walsh, it is said.

Saturday evening Walsh got the blue envelope, announcing the ghost would walk no more in his direction.

"Then," said Walsh, politely, "if you won't pay me any wages hereafter I'll quit working for you. I regret the necessity of this course, but candor compels me to say that under the circumstances I must sever my connection with you."

"You are quite right, Mr. Walsh," replied the foreman, not to be outdone in politeness. "Under the circumstances, I am sure, you could do nothing else."

Nineteen feeders at the factory held an indignation meeting at once and declared that unless Walsh was reinstated they would go on strike. They conferred with the management, but received no satisfaction.

Monday morning when they appeared for duty they asked if Walsh had been reinstated and were told that he was still on bad terms with the ghost.

"They don't speak as they pass by," said the cashier.

"Then we don't work," said the 19 feeders.

"Is Joe Walsh back at work?" asked a spokeswoman for 75 girls in the wrapper department.

"He has refused to work here because we are not paying him any more," replied the cashier.

"Come on, girls; let's go home," said the spokeswoman, and the 75 wrapper girls put on their wraps and departed.

After a shut-down of two days Foreman Frederick Peper agreed to put Mr. Walsh back to work in another department, and the strikers said they would return.

SENT FREE TO MEN

Most Remarkable Remedy That Quickly Restores Lost Vigor to Men.

A Free Trial Package Sent by Mail To All Who Write.

Free trial packages of a most remarkable remedy are being mailed to all who will write the State Medical Institute. They cured so many men who had battled for years against the mental and physical suffering of lost manhood, that the institute has decided to distribute free trial packages to all who write. It is a home treatment and all men who suffer from any form of sexual weakness, resulting from youthful folly, premature loss of strength and memory, weak back, varicocele, or exhaustion of parts can now cure themselves at home.

The remedy has a peculiarly grateful effect of warmth and seems to act direct to the desired location, giving strength and development where it is needed. It cures all the ills and troubles that come from years of misuse of the natural functions and has been an absolute success in all cases. A request to the State Medical Institute, 620 Elektron Building, Ft. Wayne, Ind., stating that you desire one of their free trial packages will be complied with promptly. The institute is desirous of reaching that great class of men who are unable to leave home to be treated and the free sample will enable them to see how easy it is to be cured of sexual weakness when the proper remedies are employed. The institute makes no restrictions. Any man who writes will be sent a free sample, carefully sealed in a plain package so that its recipient need have no fear of embarrassment or publicity. Readers are requested to write without delay.

THIS WOMAN, TOO, LOVED ED BIDDLE

Pathetic Letter Received by Mrs. Kate Soffel.

STORY OF BLIND INFATUATION.

WRITER BELONGED TO BEST SOCIETY IN PITTSBURG.

The Warden's Foolish Wife Is Very Ill and May Not Live to Answer in Court for Aiding the Desperadoes.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 5.—Mrs. Kate Soffel will hardly live to be tried for her participation in the escape of the desperate Biddle brothers. Dr. H. G. Briggs is working hard to save her, but the woman has collapsed at the home of her sister, Mrs. Miller.

Mrs. Soffel received a letter at the Butler Hospital from a woman signing herself Julie. This woman, it is said, visited Gov. Stone to secure a respite for the Biddles. Richard Scandrett, Mrs. Soffel's attorney, refused to give the name of the woman, but says she is rich and prominent in society. The letter reads in part:

Gratitude to Mrs. Soffel.

"PITTSBURB, Pa., Feb. 6.

"Mrs. P. K. Soffel —

"Dear Madam: I have contemplated writing you a letter ever since you were hurt, but the uncertainty of your condition and the reports emanating from the Butler hospital held me back for fear my letter would never reach your hands. You tried to help Edward Biddle, and any help or assistance lent him, from whatever source, must find deep lodgment in my heart and forever hold my sincerest gratitude.

Yours is not the only life Ed Biddle wrecked and ruined, yet yours is no doubt the completest wreck, for your secrets are now everybody's, while mine are still my own and will ever be.

You sought to help him in his darkest hour and need and riskod everything. Whether your motive was womanly sympathy or a deeper passion you yourself can only know, but be that as it may, you tried—and—failed. For the first I will be ever grateful; for the last, ever sorrowful. You released him, yet the cause of his freedom was the millstone around his neck that dragged him to his most ignominious death.

Why, in God's name, did you go with him? They must have known—you must have known—there was not one chance in a thousand of ultimate success in the course pursued.

It was Ed's overmastering sense of honor that took you with him, even when he felt it was to his despicable death. He could not desert one who had done so much for him.

Oh, those cannibalistic curs called officers. Where is man's humanity for man when money is a consideration? Five thousand dollars, and not the Biddles, was the incentive that overshadowed and outweighed all human instincts in their capture.

The First Meeting With Ed Biddle.

I am 24 years of age and have seen much of the society side of life. My mirror tells me that nature was almost lavish in her endowments to me, and many men have sought my favor. I am so well favored by fortune that I have never had a wish or desire to go unsatisfied. No man ever occupied the remotest corner of my heart until at a church sociable, about the middle of March last, I met and sought an introduction to Mr. Edward Wilcox.

With me it was love at first sight. He paid me marked attention during the evening and, on parting, I asked him to call. On the first evening I went out he called. He left his card, on which he pencilled a few words of regret not to find me in (that card is the only souvenir, except a broken heart, that I have to remind me that I ever met Ed Biddle).

He called Sunday. I felt a wonderful relief when he went. Had he stayed longer he must have guessed my secret.

He, to me, was my ideal of manhood. There was nothing sentimental about him. I could not call him brilliant, yet he was joyful and his face lit up in the discussion of such subjects as were introduced in the most captivating manner I had ever seen, and oh, his eyes, those eyes which swam in a flood of their own natural moisture.

He seemed to like me, but I brought all the wiles of a woman's insidious art to bear upon him and used all the stratagem of which a pretty girl is capable, yet no word of affection or love could I buy from that dear boy.

O, had he only known how completely I was his he would not now be the occupant of an obscure grave on Calvary Hill.

From Parlor to Prisoner's Dock.

The last night he came to see me was, I think, April 19. He was unusually gay that night and I resolved to gain from him one word of compliment or one little caress, which I found other men only too willing to offer.

When he rose to go I went to the hall and got his cane and hat and I took the brim of the hat between my teeth, put my head through the curtains, and, assuming a most coquettish and saucy pose, I said:

"You're my prisoner."

As it seemed to me afterward, he suddenly turned pale and a terribly frightened look came into his eyes for just one instant. He quickly recovered himself, seized me in his arms, pressing me tightly to his breast, just long enough to say, "No, I'm not your prisoner, but you're mine, and the sweetest one ever captured."

He never offered to kiss me, but almost roughly pushed me aside, grabbed his hat, which had fallen to the floor, rushed from the house without even saying good-night.

The next time I saw Ed Wilcox he was in a prisoner's dock, on trial for murder. How my idol was shattered! My handsome Ed was a murderer.

If Ed had ever made me any protestations of love he would never have been in need of funds for his defense. Once when I lifted my veil during the trial he recognized me, for he blushed furiously. That blush almost made me come to his aid. I went to his lawyer's office twice, and both times turned away without going in.

I was on my way to spend $200 for a wrap when I read an interview with Biddle's attorney to the effect that it required $200 to get a writ for the Biddles. I decided to spend the money for a writ, and called at the jail. I was refused admission to the Biddles, but called on you, Mrs. Soffel. I went to the jail and wrote a note to Ed Biddle, inclosing $200. It was never answered, and I do not believe he ever received it.

As I knelt in the snow in Calvary Cemetery, beside the open grave of Edward Biddle, I prayed to God as I never prayed before that his ignominious death might be avenged. I sincerely hope in the near future to meet you, and I assure you it will not be my fault if I don't.

Yours in great grief and sorrow,

JULIE.

A HEARTY SOLDIER

Worked on New Rations.

One of Uncle Sam's army boys got a lift with Grape-Nuts. A private at Fort Harrison, Mont., named Orlando Miller, says: "When I was all run down with dyspepsia and got so I weighed only 121 pounds a friend recommended that I take Grape-Nuts Food.

"This was last spring and I followed the advice. I have steadily improved. Gradually lost my stomach trouble, until I have gained my strength and health. I am now weighing 156½ pounds. Any one in my regiment, 8th Regulars, can verify these facts."

FACTION "PULLS" WILL BE TESTED

CONVENTION LOCATIONS WILL SHOW WHO'S WHO.

KERENS HAS PASS PRIVILEGES.

Joplin, Carthage or Jefferson City Would Suit President Roosevelt's New-Found Admirer.

The strength of the present Missouri factions with the followers of "Col." R. C. Kerens on one side and those of Chairman Thomas J. Akins on the other, will be put to the test Saturday when the state committee meets to determine the location of the next state and judicial conventions.

In formulating the call for the state convention the question as to whether this body should indorse the United States senatorial candidate will be considered.

If the convention is to be held at Kansas City or St. Louis it seems certain that the Akins forces will desire the delegates to select a senatorial favorite.

On the other hand, if it is held at Joplin, Carthage or Jefferson City, the Kerens wing will be agreeable to this program.

The reason of this peculiar situation is this: Kerens as the acknowledged "big" leader of Missouri Republicanism, is credited with a valuable railroad influence and where is little railroad competition it is asserted by the opposition he can corner the free transportation market without much trouble.

In the case of Kansas City or St. Louis, conditions would be different.

The state chairmen might be able, his friends think, to get a few passes for his adherents to either of these points.

Mr. Akins has very forcibly stated that he is not a candidate to succeed George Graham Vest as United States senator. Mr. Kerens will not say as much. He believes that harmony should precede personal ambition.

This sounds quite well in the Kerens camp, but the state machine is skeptical of the wily colonel.

They say he is a candidate for the United States Senate, is using his position as national committeeman to advance his claims, and lastly, but not least, has come out strongly for President Roosevelt because he is anxious to have his senatorial aspirations gratified.

That a movement is now on foot to shelve both Akins and Kerens as political factors, and thus really bring the two wings of the party together, has been known for some time.

Akins is not considered a strong leader by those who would sidetrack him, and the ghost of "star routism," clad in the robes of political opponents, promises to make Kerens "go 'way back," a committeeman says.

STRANGER ENDED LIFE IN HOTEL

EDWIN BARBOUR OF INDIANAPOLIS SWALLOWED MORPHINE.

CLERK HEARD HIS GROANS.

Man Who Identified the Body Said Suicide Was Due to Lack of Work.

A man who is supposed to have been Edwin Barbour of Indianapolis, Ind., committed suicide at the Pilgrim Hotel, 121 Chestnut street, early Wednesday morning by swallowing morphine and laudanum.

He died while being taken in an ambulance to the City Hospital.

The man entered the hotel shortly after 8 o'clock Tuesday night and told Clerk Henry Kammermeier that he wanted a "nice, light room," where he could read a newspaper which he had in his hand. He was assigned to room 16, on the third floor.

Shortly after midnight the clerk heard groans on the third floor and traced the sound to Barbour's room.

"Never mind; I'm all right," was the answer he received when he knocked on the door.

A half hour later the groans were renewed, and Kammermeier, being unable to arouse the inmate of the room by knocking, called a policeman, who forced the door.

His name appears on the register as "Edwin Barbour, City." A keyring in his pocket bears the name "E. Barbour, Indianapolis."

James H. Stone of Detroit, a traveling salesman stopping at the Moser Hotel, identified Barbour and testified at the coroner's inquest.

"Barbour was about 34 years old," he said, "and lived in Indianapolis. He had been a traveling salesman, but was cut of work and had been despondent over business troubles.

"He had been stopping at the St. James Hotel, and I supposed that he was still there until I heard that his body had been taken from the Pilgrim.

"He was a native of Virginia and had been married, but was divorced."

In a memorandum book in Barbour's pocket were found the names of John P. Collins, 712 South Broadway, and E. J. Morrissey, Four Courts.

A verdict of suicide was rendered.

THE PRINCE TOO HOARSE TO SPEAK

Disappointed Waiting Crowd At Cleveland.

DID NOT APPEAR AT TOLEDO.

TRAIN FLYING OVER THE RAILS FOR NIAGARA FALLS.

The Royal Visitor Slept on the Journey From Milwaukee to Cleveland, and Was Not Disturbed Till Morning.

CLEVELAND, O., March 5.—Prince Henry was too tired to appear for any of the receptions informally tendered to him by the cities through which he passed early this morning in Northwestern Ohio until his arrival in Cleveland at 9:10. He retired last night quite fatigued after a day that had many demands upon him, and slept through until late this morning. His train, which left Milwaukee at 10:10 o'clock last night, was transferred at Chicago shortly after midnight to the tracks of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern, and left at once for Cleveland, Buffalo and Niagara.

The people of Toledo were eager to greet the prince, and nearly 2000 of them were at the depot at 6:20 o'clock, when the special came in and stopped. They had a band and two big bouquets, and were all ready to extend the hospitable hand. They had telegraphed to the prince asking for a chance to meet him, but the telegram had miscarried, and the prince was sleeping, unconscious of the reception. The band awakened him, but it was too late then to get up. The boquets were thrown aboard, and later in the morning the trainmen presented them to the prince.

There was another crowd at Sandusky, but the prince had fallen asleep again, and did not come out. He has stood his rapid, trying swing through the country much better than many of his escort, and is well and strong.

He was tired last night, but the long, refreshing sleep which he got completely restored him. There has been some apprehension aboard the train about possible delay in New York on account of the floods and it has been partially decided that if the train cannot be put on the routes mapped out without extending it the train will be transferred to one of the southern lines.

The train stopped here only 15 minutes and the prince appeared on the platform of his car, but did not make a speech. The large crowd cheered and the prince smiled and bowed, but pointed to his throat and remarked that he was too hoarse to attempt to deliver a speech.

RUN OVER BY FREIGHT CAR.

Thomas Johnson of East St. Louis Lost Leg by Accident.

While crawling under a freight car in the Terminal yards, East St. Louis, Wednesday morning, Thomas Johnson, a switchman, was knocked down by the trucks of the car and run over. His left leg was cut off and his right leg mashed.

The car was standing still when he started under it. It was in a long train which was being switched, and while Johnson was crawling under the car the train was started, the other switchmen being unaware that he was in danger.

His cries attracted their attention and the train was stopped within a few feet. Johnson was taken to St. Mary's Hospital.

He was on duty when hurt, and was helping handle the train which passed over him.

His home is at 225 Baugh avenue, East St. Louis.

LIEUT. ERNEST ALLEN DEAD.

Young St. Louisan Cut Off at Outset of Promising Military Career.

First Lieut. Ernest Edward Allen of the Fourth Infantry died at Vancouver Barracks Tuesday from pneumonia. A telegram announcing his death was received by his mother, Mrs. M. B. Allen of 3143 Pine street.

Lieut. Allen had been ill for only a few days, his last letter having contained mention of an indisposition.

His military career commenced in September, 1896, when he entered West Point Military Academy by appointment of Congressman Seth W. Cobb. He joined the Fourteenth Infantry after his graduation and was assigned to China. He later served in Manila, and was in charge of the Island of Santa Rosa. For five months past he had been at Vancouver Barracks.

The funeral will be held in St. Louis with military honors.

NOT THE FATHER, BUT THE SON

Defendant Acquitted in Police Court Tuesday Was Philip J., Instead of Philip C. Coughlan.

The man charged with disturbing the peace of F. H. Donovan of 3755 Bartmer avenue and honorably acquitted Tuesday in the Dayton Street Police Court was not P. C. Coghlan of 1416 Granville place, a relation of Capt. Coghlan of naval fame, but was Philip J. Coghlan, a son of P. C. Coghlan.

Donovan said that Philip J. Coghlan threw a half brick at him Monday evening while he was exercising "Rex L.," a valuable saddle horse owned by Ralph Orthwein, on Hodiamont avenue. The brick, Donovan said, struck the horse. Coghlan denied Donovan's statement and Judge Wislizenus ordered that he be discharged.

HONOR FOR ALFRED ERNST.

Choral-Symphony Director to Lead Wagnerian Festival at Beyreuth.

Director Alfred Ernst of the Choral-Symphony Orchestra, who expects to start for Europe in April, may lead the famous Wagnerian festival at Beyreuth, Germany, next summer.

Mme. Ernestine Shumann-Heink, who sang here recently, was much pleased with Mr. Ernst's work as her accompanist, and she promised that she would use her influence to have him appointed conductor of the annual musical festival near her home this year.

Mme. Schumann-Heink said that she would arrange to have Mr. Ernst presented to Mme. Cosma Wagner, daughter of Franz Liszt and widow of Richard Wagner. Mme. Wagner and Mme. Schumann-Heink are close friends.

Only the finest interpreters of Wagnerian music are selected to direct the annual festivals and Mr. Ernst's designation for this important post, by the famous German singer, is regarded as a high honor.

NEW IDEA IN ASSESSMENT.

Corporation Must Pay Iowa On $9,000,000 Property Held in Colorado.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Io., March 5.—City Assessor Everest has included in his assessment roll the property of the Portland Mining Co., whose headquarters are in this city, but whose property holdings are in Colorado.

The Iowa code makes a provision for taxing corporations having their principal place of business within the state. The local representative of the company refused to amke a statement of its taxable property and the assessor has decided to assess the company on the basis of its alleged actual value of $9,000,000, as provided by the law.

The recent Burns-Doyle suit for possession of a million dollars of stock in the Portland company, the assessor says, formed a basis for calculation on the value of its property. The action of the city is expected to precipitate a lawsuit.

POST-DISPATCH MARKET RECORD

GRAIN MARKETS WERE IRREGULAR

AFTER STRONG ADVANCE WHEAT AND CORN SOLD OFF.

SPECULATORS TOOK PROFITS

Wheat Forced Up on Damage Reports From Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas.

Though wheat and corn closed with gains Wednesday, a large portion of the early advance was lost. The market opened higher than Tuesday's close. The speculative demand was good and the offerings were light. All the cash markets were stronger. The grain movement was very light, owing to the bad condition of the country roads.

The Southwest sent in reports that after careful investigation wheat in Kansas and Oklahoma was found to be damaged from 25 to 50 per cent. This news caused shorts to cover.

May wheat sold up to 84⅝c, 1⅛c above Tuesday. This price invited realizing and the option sold off, closing with a gain of only ⅛c at 83⅝c bid. May corn sold up to 62¼@62⅜c and then sagged with wheat, closing with a gain of ¼@⅜c at 62c bid.

Clear weather prevails in the southwest with moderate temperatures everywhere. No rain has fallen in the southwest for about 10 days and it was reported that the growing wheat was suffering seriously.

Liverpool was stronger, wheat and corn opening ⅛d up and remaining steady during the day. Spot wheat and corn closed unchanged. Paris was up ¾@1c, but Antwerp remained steady and unchanged from Tuesday.

The wheat movement was light, Minneapolis and Duluth receiving 213 cars, 64 less than a year ago. St. Louis received 14,160 bu, compared with 56,893 bu a year ago. Primary receipts fell off 206,317 bu. Clearances were 611,000 bu, but the export trade was light.

The wheat market was strong all day. Speculative offerings were light. Kansas City sent out a report that the growing wheat in Oklahoma and Kansas had been damaged 25 to 50 per cent. It was said that in some parts of Kansas many fields would be fit only for pasture. No rain has fallen in Oklahoma for 10 days, and the plant is in a serious condition. Texas sent in a batch of damage reports. All this bullish news started shorts to covering, and the advance was gradual from the opening.

May wheat opened with a gain of ⅛c at 83⅝c, and during the first hour advanced to 84⅝c, 1⅛c above the close Tuesday. This bulge invited realizing and the option fell back to 84c, rallied again to 84⅜c and then receded to 84c. We're Working Nights filling orders these days.

But we're not so very busy that we cannot take care of your orders. We will take care with them as well as take care of them if we have to work 20 hours a day from now to Easter to get them out for you in time for Easter.

We guarantee promptness. We also guarantee satisfaction. We demand no deposit. We ask you to take no garment that doesn't please you perfectly. We make our clothing to suit you, not ourselves—although it suits us to suit you.

Suits—$25 to $50. Spring Overcoats—$25 to $45. Trousers—$6 to $12.

MARKETS AND FINANCIAL

HEAVY SELLING OF RAILWAYS AGAIN

ON WHICH MARKET BREAKS SHARPLY IN PRICE.

GOOD BUYING AT THE DECLINE.

Dealings in All Other Issues Small and Market Generally Easier With the Slump in Railways.

The heavy selling of syndicate railways, which was the chief feature of yesterday's two sessions of the Stock Exchange and resulted in a sharp letdown in values, was resumed this morning and carried on with such vigor that a further decline took place in these issues and the whole market was bearishly influenced, with the result that all stocks and bonds either sold or were quoted lower.

The feature of the session was the trading in the railways, which was the heaviest experienced for many a long day, the decline in prices, which was not large, owing to the good buying support, especially near the close, when one well-known broker started the crowd by bidding for 1000 share lots of United preferred, which he got, too, and the big dealings in Transit stock, the total sales of the two issues amounting to over 4800 shares. The heaviest trading was in United preferred, of which one prominent house appeared to have a monopoly of the selling orders, and it was shoveled out right and left at ⅛ to ¼ points decline from yesterday's close, at $83.75 and $83.87½. The buying support was particularly good late and the market held up and closed with buyers at $83.75. The opening sales of Transit were ⅛ point higher, but the market soon succumbed to the selling pressure and broke to $29.87½, but closed with sales at $30, and that asked. The 4s felt the effect of the heavy selling of the stock and sold sharply lower at $88.75 and $88.50. Brokers were somewhat at loss to account for the heavy persistent selling of the above stocks the past day or two and all sorts of rumors were afloat. One of these rumors was to the effect that an insider was selling, as one of the leading officials of the United Railway Co. had been seen in close consultation with the broker who was the principal seller on 'change, and another was that a deficit was expected in the earnings of the transit company for the past year.

The railways monopolized the attention of brokers on the floor this morning and everything else was more or less neglected. General weakness prevailed also and the few sales made were at a decline. For instance, Germania sold at $201.50 and $201, Lincoln at $264 and $263, but was only bid $262.50 at the close. Missouri, on the other hand, was better supported and brought $130.50 and $130.25 and Title and Guaranty sold at $120. Bank and miscellaneous stocks and bonds of all kinds were very dull.

LOCAL MONEY MARKET.

Another Active Day in Local Banking and Trust Circles.

The business transacted at the different banks and trust companies today was of large proportions and active, and according to the opinion of officials there was nothing in the general situation to be found fault with. All departments were active and reflected the improvement in spring trade locally, which has already set in and gives promise of more than equaling that of last year. There was an excellent demand for money on both local and outside account, and the available supplies being ample, borrowers were genrally accommodated, and a large amount of money found employment at the old rates, time paper being discounted at 4 to 5 and call at 5 to 6 per cent. Business of all kinds of a local character was brisk throughout the day.

The bank clearings were large and bore evidence of the favorable condition of affairs existing financially in this city, they amounting to $8,572,290 against $8,740,885 yesterday, while the balances were reported at $1,554,592 as compared with $1,448,957.

COALERS SPECIALLY WEAK

New York Market Opens With Sharp Losses on Great Western and Others.

NEW YORK, March 5.—The opening market was under light pressure, but declines were generally restricted to small fractions. The coalers showed some special weakness and a number of inactive stocks scored sharp losses. Of these Chicago, Great Western, Lake Erie & Western and Chicago & Northwestern were down 1¼ to 1½.

Cotton futures opened firm. March 8.86; April, offered 8.88; May, 8.75; June, 8.75; July, 8.77; Aug., 8.62; Sept. 8.30; Oct. 8.12; Nov., offered 8.06; Dec. offered 8.05.

Prices did not recede much further, although Missouri Pacific and Consolidated Gas lost a point. When the selling started the market hardened, but did not recover fully. Sugar and Metropolitan Street Railway sold fractionally above last night. Amalgamated Copper was heavy on the rumored death of a leader in the copper trade. Chicago, Indianapolis & Louisville declined 1⅜ and Pressed Steel Car 1. St. Louis & San Francisco, American Cotton Oil and United States Rubber preferred rose 1@1¾.

New York Money and Exchange.

NEW YORK, March 5.—Noon.—Money on call steady at 2½ per cent. Prime mercantile paper, 4@4½ per cent. Sterling exchange steady, with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.87⅝@4.87¾ for demand and at $4.85⅛@4.85⅜ for 60 days. Posted rates, $4.86 and $4.88½. Commercial bills, 4.84⅞@4.85¼. New Exchange Rules Now Used.

President Tansey of the Merchants' Exchange posted the following notice on the Merchants' Exchange Wednesday:

"The new rules adopted on the 4th inst. take effect at once. Contracts made previous to the adoption of the new rule should be settled under the rules existing at the time of making the contract."

GRAIN MARKET BY TELEGRAPH.

CHICAGO March 5.—Trade in all grains opened dull and steady today. May wheat started a shade lower to unchanged at 76¾c to 76⅛@76¼c, and the market early evolved itself into a scalping affair. Cables were barely firm, the outside markets were up a trifle and the buying side was a little better than the selling—commission houses executing a few purchases. Crop damage reports continued to come in from time to time and the southwest was still clear, and clearer weather was predicted in that section. The factors influenced a slightly bullish feeling, though the very poor export demand, as indicated by the seaboard taking only three loads yesterday, kept prices haggling very closely. May reached 76⅞@76⅝c, and then hung steady. Local receipts were 37 cars, three of contract grade; Minneapolis and Duluth reported 213 cars, making a total for the three points of 250 cars, against 562 last week and 332 a year ago.

Larger receipts than estimated in corn had little effect today. Bullish sentiment followed buying by the local crowd, and though the market was dull early, prices improved a little. As one trader put it, "the market indicated that it took corn to break corn," and as offerings were small the market held well. May opened a shade lower to a shade higher at 61⅝c to 61⅞c, sold up to 62¼c and steadied around 62c. Receipts were 119 cars.

The tone in oats was firm. May opened ⅛c lower at 44⅛c and eased to 44⅛@44¼c on larger receipts, but that option was wanted and as there was no urgent sale and commission houses bought a few, May advanced to 44⅜c and steadied with corn. Trade was slow. Receipts were 106 cars.

Larger receipts and lower prices for hogs at the yards depressed provisions at the opening and caused some selling. Offerings were not excessive, however, and the low prices started buying by packers, which lifted prices to yesterday's closing figures and steadied the market. May pork opened 5c lower at $15.25 and reacted to $15.30; May lard 2½@5c lower at $9.32½ and sold at $9.35@9.37½, and May ribs 2½c down at $8.32½ and gained 2½c.

CHICAGO, March 5.—Butter steady; creameries, 18@26½c; dairies, 18@28c. Cheese steady; twins, 10¾@11¼c; Daisies, 11½@11¾c; Young Americas, 12@12¼c. Eggs weak at mark, cases included, 21@21½c. Dressed poultry firm; turkeys, 11@15c; chickens, 9@11½c.

KANSAS CITY, March 5.—Close: Wheat—May, 73⅜c; July, 73⅞c; cash No. 2 hard, 72⅝c; No. 3, 72⅛c; No. 2 red, 81c; No. 3, 79½@80c; No. 2 spring, 71@72¼c. Corn—May, 61⅝c; Sept., 58⅛c; cash No. 2 mixed, 62c; No. 2 white, 64⅛c; No. 3, 54c. Oats—No. 2 white, 45c. Rye—No. 2, 60c. Hay—Choice timothy, $14; do prairie, $13. Butter—Creamery, 21@25c; dairy, fancy, 20c. Eggs—Fresh, 17½@18c. Receipts of wheat, 24 cars.

PEORIA, Ill., March 5.—Corn firm; No. 3, 53¼c. Oats dull; no sales quoted. Whisky on the basis of $1.30 for finished goods.

NEW YORK, March 5.—Wheat—Receipts, 950; firm and higher all the morning, but dull. May 82 1-16@82⅜c; July, 81 15-16@82 3-16c; Sept., 80⅛@81⅛c.

NEW YORK, March 5.—Poultry, alive steady; springers, 10½c; turkeys, 13c; fowls, 10½c; dressed slow; springers, 10@12c; fowls, 10½@11c; turkeys, 13@13½c.

LIVERPOOL, March 5.—Spot wheat steady and unchanged; futures quiet; May, 6s ⅝d; July, 6s ⅛d. Corn—Spot steady; American mixed, new, 5s 1¼d, old, 5s. 2¼d; futures dull; March, 5s 1¼d; May, 5s 1¼d.

LINCOLN LETTER IN RUBBISH.

It Was Among Castoff Papers in New York Street.

NEW YORK, March 5.—Soiled and faded, torn and frayed, a letter written by Abraham Lincoln a few months before his assassination has been found in some rubbish and papers on Broadway, near the postoffice. It reads as follows:

Executive Mansion, Washington, Nov. 21, 1864.

To Mrs. Bixby, Boston, Mass.

I have been shown in the file of the war department a statement of the adjutant-general of Massachusetts that you are the mother of five sons who have died gloriously on the field of battle.

I feel how weak and fruitless must be any word of mine which should attempt to beguile you from the grief of a loss so overwhelming. But I cannot refrain from tendering you the consolation that may be found in the thanks of the Republic they died to save. I pray that our Heavenly Father may assuage the anguish of your bereavement and leave only the cherished memory of loved and lost and the solemn pride that must be yours to have laid so costly a sacrifice upon the altar of freedom. Yours very sincerely and respectfully,

A. LINCOLN.

PRAYERS FOR BISHOP POTTER.

W. C. T. U. Hopes They Will Change His Views on Saloons.

NEW YORK, March 5.—Bishop Henry C. Potter will be the subject of special prayers tomorrow by the Women's Christian Temperance Union of Newark, N. J.

The occasion will be the monthly all-day prayer meeting, and the reason for his being singled out by the organization for prayer is the recent expression of his views on the Sunday saloon closing question, in a speech at Montclair, N. J.

That Bishop Potter may see the temperance and Sunday saloon question in a different light will be the burden of supplications in his behalf. The announcement of the meeting says:

"Bishop Potter's opinion of the temperance cause and the drunkard will be discussed and the bishop prayed for most earnestly."

GIRL AIDS FATHER'S CAMPAIGN.

Her Voice and Violin Help His Congressional Aspirations.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 5.—Miss Lotta Greenup of Paducah has taken to the stump with her father in his campaign for the Democratic nomination for member of Congress from this district.

Mr. Greenup is a music dealer and Miss Lotta is an accomplished musician. During her father's tours of the district, she plays the violin and sings before the audiences which he addresses. The South has seen nothing like it since Bob Taylor's fiddling tour of Tennessee. The double bill is drawing big crowds everywhere.

MONSTER PILLAR OF GRANITE.

Largest Building Stone Ever Quarried Used Sixty Feet Above Ground.

NEW YORK, March 5.—A monster pillar of granite—the largest solid piece of stone ever quarried for building purposes—will be swung into its place today, 60 feet above the ground on the half-completed Hall of Records, at Chambers and Center streets.

It is more than 36 feet long, four feet wide and two feet thick and required nearly three months to quarry. Thirty-one other stone pillars to be put in the building will be even larger. Each of the stones will cost $5000.

ALFRED BOOTH DEAD.

Founder of Well-Known Mercantile Firm in Chicago.

CHICAGO, March 5.—Alfred Booth, who founded the firm of A. Booth & Co. in the fish trade, died at his residence here today. For two weeks the patient's arteries have been gradually hardening, and last night it became apparent the end was near. The deceased was born 74 years ago and came to Chicago in 1850. The year after the great fire Mr. Booth began to extend his business and soon gained considerable influence in the fish trade in the great lakes. In 1880 Mr. Booth retired from active business, leaving his affairs in the hands of his sons, Alfred E. and Vernon Booth. In 1898 the firm became a corporation (A. Booth & Co., with a capital of $500,00).

FENDER DEVICES ON TRIAL

Tests Made Wednesday in Presence of B. P. I. and Prominent Railroad Officials.

Fender tests were made at the car sheds of the St. Louis Transit Co., Fairfax and Taylor avenues, Wednesday morning in the presence of the members of the board of public improvements, Thomas M. Jenkins, general manager of the Suburban railroad, and General Manager Dupont of the transit company.

Dummies, filled with sand and sawdust, were placed on the tracks in various positions and the cars run against them.

Among the fenders submitted for trial were those belonging to Frank Galennie, president of the St. Louis Exposition; John McGuire, W. M. Matthews, Frank Cook and a Mr. Sieger.

At noon the board adjourned until 2 o'clock, when the tests will be resumed.

MOTHER FINDS HER KIDNAPED CHILD

FOR ELEVEN YEARS THEY HAD BEEN SEPARATED.

GIRL IN KENTUCKY SCHOOL

The Parents Were Divorced and the Daughter Was Spirited Away by Her Father.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

EL PASO, Tex., March 5.—The chief character in a romance which has just been made public here is Lucile Wade, a beautiful girl now attending a boarding school at Bowling Green, Ky. Eleven years ago she was kidnaped from this city by relatives, and every effort of her mother to discover where she was kept in hiding proved futile until a short time ago, when her whereabouts were revealed in an entirely unexpected manner.

In 1891 a suit for divorce was instituted in this city by Mrs. Blanche Wade, one of the noted beauties of the Southwest, whose marriage less than 10 years before had been one of the events of the season in which it occurred. Her husband was a young civil engineer, whose career promised to be a successful one, but it turned out otherwise.

After a bitter fight in the courts, which engendered much ill will among the relatives of the husband and wife, the court granted her a decree of divorce and custody of their two children, Lucile, the elder, and Blanche, the baby. Only a short time elapsed until one day the husband disappeared and the elder girl with him. The mother used every means to trace the child, but to no avail.

Three years ago the child's father died in Mexico and his body was brought to this country and buried here.

It was then that the missing girl's mother lost all hope of ever seeing her child again. Believing that the secret of the child's whereabouts was locked in the bosom of the dead man and would never be revealed, she became resigned.

Now comes the strangest part of the story. About six months ago the sister of the dead man quarreled with her husband over an estate and sued for divorce, and the bitterness between them became intense. While the case was pending in the courts here she sought out the mother of the missing girl and told her the whole story of the kidnaping episode, withholding nothing. The little one had been taken from El Paso to Chihuhua, and when about to be recovered by detectives the husband removed the child to Kansas, where she had been reared at the home of another of his relatives.

At the age of 15 the little girl was placed in Porter College at Bowling Green, Ky., and is there at the present time. The overjoyed mother, who had not seen her daughter for 11 years, was quick to communicate with the authorities of the Kentucky school and in reply received a long letter and the photograph of her daughter, now a lovely girl of 18.

DERESZKE GAVE HER PURSE

Miss Jeannette Plons Is Mourning Loss of Pocketbook Presented by the Noted Basso.

Miss Jeannette E. Plons of 3642 Lindell boulevard is mourning the loss of a silver purse presented to her by Edouard de Reszke.

Miss Plons is a native Parisian and when a child was a great favorite with the De Reszke brothers. She is possessed with some voice and before Edouard de Reszke became so eagerly sought after by opera managers he devoted some attention to the cultivation of his little friend's talent.

He went abroad and became famous. Miss Plons came to America. Six years ago she attended the grand opera performance in New York. The De Reszkes sang. She sent her card to Edouard and after the performance he met her. The next day he presented her with a silver purse inscribed: "From Edouard de Reszke to Jeannette."

It was this purse, containing $5.25, that Miss Plons lost, she thinks, either in the Fourth National Bank or on the street between that institution and the Mermod-Jaccard building.

ROW BOATS FORMED FUNERAL CORTEGE

STRANGE SCENE FOLLOWED THE FLOOD AT PATERSON.

BURIALS WERE LONG DELAYED

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PATERSON, N. J., March 5.—The falling of the waters in the streets of Paterson making navigation in boats possible and uncovering the surface of the cemeteries permitted several long-delayed funerals in this stricken city.

These presented the most remarkable features of the latest disaster that has visited this unfortunate city. Instead of hearses and carriages there were row boats to convey the coffins and the mourners.

The first of these remarkable funerals was that of Mrs. Peter Masker, whose body had lain for several days at No. 53 River street.

So swift was the current that flowed past the house that a row boat could not safely be held there, but, by an ingenious arrangement, the trolley wires that are strung near the house were utilized. The coffin was suspended by a wire looped over them, and so hauled across the street, where the current was less swift, and lowered into a boat.

Then it was rowed to West street, where it was placed in a hearse and driven to Laurel Grove Cemetery. For the mourners, a heavy stage drawn by four strong horses was provided.

The stage was driven with difficulty to the house. The water rose high above the body of the vehicle, and the horses had to struggle to head the current.

The mourners were hastily transported to the top of the stage, and with difficulty taken to comparatively dry land.

A similar scene was enacted on West street. In one of the houses there a child had died at the height of the flood. The tiny coffin was deposited in a row boat by the mourners and carried to the West street bridge, where a hearse and coaches were waiting. There were 10 funerals in all yesterday, the burials being in Laurel Grove Cemetery. The vault at the Holy Sepulcher Cemetery was found to be in condition to place bodies there, and many funerals will be held today.

Spring Wretchedness, Misery and Suffering Permanently Banished When You Use

Paine's Celery Compound

A Cured and Grateful Farmer's Wife Declares That Paine's Celery Compound Almost Raised Her From the Grave.

A few words to weak, broken down, nervous and sick women at this time, and the perusal of Mrs. Shepherd's letter, will, we trust, kindle hope and inspire fresh confidence in many a home where some loved mother, wife or daughter is hovering between life and death. At this season thousands are nearing the grave; all can be saved by the prompt use of Paine's Celery Compound. Mrs. Virginia Shepherd, Powellton, W. Va., writes as follows:—

"I had been sick for eight years, and no tongue can tell what I suffered. I would have spells of nervous headache when I would keep my bed five and six days, and could not raise my head off the pillow. Then I would get numb all over, and they would have to rub and work over me to keep me alive, and I would have sinking spells and palpitation of the heart, but thanks to Paine's Celery Compound, and I cannot praise it enough, I have not had a headache for six weeks, a thing I could not say before in eight years. Your compound has almost raised me from the grave, as I had given up all hopes of this life until my husband read one of your pamphlets. After I had been using it I felt better than I had for three years."

CHANGE OF BILLS TONIGHT AT THE THEATERS

THE CARDINAL AND THE CARICATURIST.

There are a great many characters of interest in E. S. Willard's new play, "The Cardinal," at the Olympic this week, but The Cardinal is the main thing. In fact all the other characters are merged in the Cardinal. This is the Post-Dispatch caricaturist's idea of this dramatic merger.

There will be a change of bills at the Olympic and the Grand tonight, and at the Century, too, for that matter, but the Century change is only in the regular order of things.

At the Olympic Mr. Willard will tonight lay aside his cardinal's robes and appear in the dapper sartorial creation of the time of the dandies. In other words he will present David Garrick, which, of all the roles he essays, fits him best. See Willard in "David Garrick" once and you'll want to see him every time you can.

At the Grand, Mrs. Fiske will present "Miranda." It is a much more elaborate production than "The Unwelcome Mrs. Hatch," and, we are told, much more of a play—although not the equal of "Divorcons," which she will present Thursday night, and which is one of the best comedies ever written. In fact "Divorcons" is about the only comedy Sardou ever wrote, and he made it a good one.

"Miranda" is a dramatization of A. E. W. Mason's novel "Miranda of the Balcony," by Anne Crawford Flexner. It tells a fascinating love story in a romantic manner and develops characters that practically are new to the stage. The plot turns on the disappearance of a scoundrel, Ralph Warriner, from his post as an English officer at Gibraltar; his supposed death and the subsequent wooing of his widow by the hero of the play, with whom Miranda falls in love; the discovery that the husband is alive, but held a captive by the Moors, and his final rescue from slavery by the lover. There is certainly plenty of material. We shall see what has been done with it.

At the Century the Castle Square company will present "Carmen," with Miss Norwood in the name part.

Paderewski, who is coming to the Odeon March 15, was seated a few days ago at the writing table in the reading room of his hotel in New York, when he overheard a man muttering "Same hair, same face, looks like Paddyroosky." Then in a few minutes the stranger leaned across the table and said: "I beg your pardon, but do you know that you look a good deal like Paddyroosky?" "That is not remarkable," was the reply, "I am Paderewski." The man jumped up, shook hands violently with the pianist, and then shouted, "Billy, George, Sam, come here." Three men came at once, and with an air of pride the first speaker said: "Boys, let me introduce you to my particular friend, Mr. Paddyroosky."

Troubles with a capital T have attended the tour of Mamie Shirley, who is at present cavorting through three acts of "Humpty Dumpty" at the Imperial, in the guise of Columbine. When the company played in Indianapolis last week she fancied a new gown displayed in one of the shop windows. As the price was three figures she deemed it wise to consult her husband, who was then in Louisville, and called him on the long-distance telephone. Her better half nearly fell to the hard floor when he heard his wife ask permission to spend nearly $200 for a gown, and hoarsely yelled back: "No! Price too high!"

A few days later the male member of the Shirley family was surprised to receive a bill from Indianapolis for $160 on account of a gown delivered to his wife.

Thinking it was a mistake, he wired Miss Shirley and received an answer promptly that the bill was O K. He again wired asking what she meant, and the young woman replied that she had understood him to say over the phone.

"No price too high," and went ahead with the purchase.

Word comes from London that George Alexander, manager of the St. James Theater, has made a sensation in society by announcing that hereafter people who arrive after the curtain has gone up cannot take their seats until the end of the first act. Would that Manager Pat Short would create the same sort of a sensation in St. Louis, especially at the Olympic, where the practice of coming late has reached the point of being not only a nuisance, but a positive detriment to the performance.

"Jimmie" Powers, the agile comedian who has long since forgotten that he was christened James T., and who will be seen in the "Messenger Boy" at the Olympic next week, is nothing if not original. As a teller of good stories and an inventor of witty epigram he has no peer, and when he gets off an anecdote there is an enjoyable absence of that aroma of mustiness which clings to the average theatrical yarn. He received a request the other night from one of his many admirers for an autographed photograph with which he generously complied. The photograph, as received by his admirer, is a "full length" card, in which Jimmie is depicted standing up with his hands thrust carelessly in his pockets. Underneath the picture the comedian has written:

"I never sat for this. Yours truly, Jimmie Powers."

Mrs. Fiske will wear some notable gowns in "Miranda." In the first act she will be seen in a white satin evening costume, the skirt in three panels, embroidered with sheaves of wheat made of pearls and gold. The long train is one immense panel, similarly embroidered. White lace connects the panels of the skirt, embroidered in gold, with pearls and rhinestones. The waist is embroidered after the same design as the skirt, and the sleeves are rows of pearls and gold.

In the second act she will be gowned in pale mauve crepe. The waist is tight fitting, with an embroidered bolero hanging loose from the figure. This gown is trimmed with cream lace, with a belt and collar of changeable blue silk ribbon, blending with the material and trimming.

The third act will present her in a Worth gown of white chiffon muslin, appliqued with black chiffon roses and embroidered in steel. The bodice is trimmed with cream lace, with a large bow of pale green taffeta ribbon at the waist. The underskirt has pleatings and ruchings of white chiffon.

In the fourth act she will wear a black princess tea gown, embroidered in jet and chenille or net. A long train and long sleeves are similarly embroidered, with hanging pendants of jet.

Soliciting Funds for Taney County Sufferers—Retail Liquor Dealers May Unite—Weekly Papers Combine.

Saloon Men May Unie.—There is a movement on foot to unite the Knights of Fidelity and the Liquor Dealers' Benevolent Association, organizations among St. Louis saloonkeepers. The Knights of Fidelity have invited all members of the other society to a smoker and entertainment next Friday evening, where it is probable the matter of consolidation may be discussed.

For Bruises

Omega Oil

It would hardly be truthful to say Omega Oil cures Bruises and Sprains and Strains. Nature herself does most of the curing, but the Oil stops the pain while the bruised place is being cured. The pain is what annoys you, and Omega Oil must be given the credit for fixing you up so you will not suffer. Omega Oil soothes, softens and comforts any pain you apply it to. If the pain is not too great, the Oil is to be well rubbed in. This sets up a good circulation of the blood, and the result is always beneficial. Besides rubbing Omega Oil into the pores, some of the Oil should be bound around the ailing part.

Omega Oil is good for everything a liniment ought to be good for. 25c

BEFRIENDED TRAMP BECAME MINISTER

WOMAN'S KINDNESS TURNED HIM TO CHRISTIANITY.

SHE GAVE HIM A GOOD HOME

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

KOKOMO, Ind., March 5.—The scriptural injunction to "turn no one away, lest unaware you entertain an angel," has been literally verified in the case of Rev. Rachel Middleton of this city and a poor ragged tramp.

Fifteen years ago a lad 16 years of age knocked at her back door and asked for food and shelter. The kind-hearted woman gave him both. She became deeply interested in the boy, who told her that he had run away from a good Presbyterian home at Zanesville, O. He gave his name as George Miller.

He remained at the home of Mrs. Middleton for several weeks, attended a revival meeting at the Friends' Church and was "converted." Then he told Mrs. Middleton that he had told her a falsehood regarding his name; that his true name was Auider Larzelene. He became a changed young man, but soon left the home of the kind-hearted Quaker woman, and for 15 years he has not been heard of and was almost forgotten until Friday night a well-dressed gentleman in the garb of a clergyman called at the home of Mrs. Middleton and introduced himself as Rev. Auider Larzelene of Canada.

It proved to be the return of the tramp of 15 years ago. The meeting was a joyful one. After his conversion the young man wandered into Canada, worked his way through a theological school and became a leading minister in the Friends' Church. Saturday and Sunday was quarterly meeting in the old church at Russiaville and Rev. Larzelene preached two profound sermons, which created a great sensation in the neighborhood to which he came as a ragged tramp 15 years ago.

Rev. Larzelene will be the guest of the good lady who turned the course of his life by kind treatment for several days before returning to his home at Toronto, Canada.

Maidenhood and Womanhood

At the threshold of wedded life with its cares and responsibilities, what more appropriate could a bride consider than a box of the medicine that will keep the new family in perfect health.

"I took Cascarets myself and they are fine. I also have been giving them to my children, with best results."—Mrs. Davis, 618 E. Capitol St., Washington.

"I was for a long time troubled with constipation and catarrh of the throat. Am now using Cascarets with good results and am satisfied I will be entirely cured."—Mrs. H. F. Yeomans, 4731 Champlain Ave., Chicago.

"I have used Cascarets and must say they are wonderful. I recommend them to all my lady friends."—Mrs. J. H. Mayes Charlton, Ia.

"Cascarets had strange effects in my case. I took them for worms and got rid of them. For about a year I had also suffered from my right eye continually watering. After I took the second dose of Cascarets the eye got well and has been well ever since."—Mrs. Freeman, 564 Haste St., San Francisco.

"About a year ago I went through a very difficult operation and since then suffered from severe headaches. I tried Cascarets and the result was wonderful. God bless you!"—Mrs. Moses Leece, Olathe, Colo.

"Cascarets are the best medicine ever I tried. I cannot be too grateful for them."—Mrs. Ella Sanders, Fox, Mo.

"For several years I have suffered extremely with a serious trouble in the right side of the bowels. The doctors called this trouble appendicitis. I took Cascarets and think you can safely add appendicitis to the list of diseases that Cascarets will cure."—Eunice J. Smith, Rich Valley, Ohio.

"I have a tumor which all the doctors told me could be gotten rid of in no other way than with the knife, but I think the Cascarets are absorbing it entirely."—Mrs. E. Dixon, Elsinore, Cal.

There are many physical disturbances of the bodily functions connected with the change from maidenhood to womanhood, and the health and wholesome life not only of the bride, the new wife and prospective mother, but that of the new generation that is to be, depend upon keeping all operations of the digestive canal regular and natural with Cascarets Candy Cathartic, the only medicine that will do it gently yet surely without grip or gripe.
